

Wesleyan College

NOW

THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE—VOL. 1, NO. 2

APRIL, 1971

FRONT COVER

APPLAUSE for Reunion Weekend by Emily Brown Edwards, '26, Macon

LIGHTED CANDLES pass from Alumnae to Seniors after Benson charge

COMING from the furthest point, Malibu Beach, Calif., Blaine Ross Shanks brought Jennifer, aged 13 months, to meet classmates of '54

NEWEST alumna, just inducted, is Debbie Hall, '71, student body head

A Voice of 1891

Greetings to all the fellow Wesleyannes whom I have known! I was a third-generation student at Wesleyan, as my grandmother, Mary Cobb Culler, attended Wesleyan the first year it opened in 1839, and my mother, Emma Culler White, graduated there in 1863.

I went to China as a missionary in 1901, and returned to Wesleyan for special studies in journalism when I was on my third furlough in 1923-24. At that time I wrote The Life Story of Alice Culler Cobb, my aunt, who held the chair of English Literature at Wesleyan for over thirty years. I intended the book to be a kind of history of Wesleyan, and I gave the royalty from it to help build the new plant at Rivoli. Published in 1926, after a few years it was out of print.

Now I am anxious to obtain some second-hand copies, that I may use these for descendants of my relatives who are graduates of the College. These are not only Alice Culler Cobb (1858) and Emma Culler White, but also Mary Cobb Pilcher (1890) and Mary Emma White Fitzgerald (1918).

If any of the readers of this notice have a copy of this book which they would be willing to give to me, I would deeply appreciate it.

I have also written two brochures—one "Her Little Serene Highness", a memorial to Mary Cobb Pilcher, and the other, "Arrows Beyond Thee", a memorial to Genie Cobb Lowe (1893). If any readers have copies of these I would be glad to receive them.

I am now ninety-five years old and living at Brooks-Howell Home, 29 Spars Avenue, Asheville, N. C. 28801. This is a retirement home for Christian workers, and I am very comfortable here, although my age is trying to catch up with me!

Mary Culler White

Spring is Here!

Hi! I think of you often in hopes that all is well . . . and growing.

With spring at hand I already miss the Japanese magnolia, Mt. Vernon suppers, the sundeck, late afternoon bike rides, the drake in the lake (or was it the swan in the pond . . . or even maybe the duck in the muck?) and the overall thrill of sharing spring's advent with friends.

I am enjoying my teaching in Newnan. The Washboard Band and Dr. Strong and the man who introduced himself as the group's chauffeur (Dr. Strickland) were quite a smash with the student body. I was so proud!

Much love to all,

Jonnie Johnston, PK '71

Happy for Guests

KATHARINE P. CARNES, Macon: "Your Alumnae Weekend was such a happy one for the guests. Everybody has praised the way everything ran so smoothly. Only those behind the scenes knew all the bumps that had to be worked out before hand. I do congratulate you (Frances) and Helen and Freda."

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT AND CIRCULATION <small>(Act of October 3, 1917; Section 4101, Title 39, United States Code)</small>		<small>Publisher: File two copies of this form with your postmaster. Postmaster: Complete verification on page 2.</small>	<small>Form Approved. Budget Form No. 48-8027</small>
1. DATE OF FILING September 21, 1970	2. TITLE OF PUBLICATION THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE
3. FREQUENCY OF ISSUE Four times a year -- Nov., Feb., May, Aug.	4. LOCATION OF KNOWN OFFICE OF PUBLICATION (Street, city, county, and ZIP Code) Wesleyan College, 4760 Forsythe Rd., Macon, Ga. 31201
5. LOCATION OF THE HEADQUARTERS OR GENERAL BUSINESS OFFICE OF THE PUBLISHER (If different from 4.) Same as above	6. NAMES AND ADDRESSES OF PUBLISHER, EDITOR, AND MANAGING EDITOR Same as above
7. OWNER (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 percent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a partnership or other unincorporated firm, its name and address, as well as that of each individual must be given.)
8. KNOWN BONDHOLDERS, MORTGAGEES, AND OTHER SECURITY HOLDERS OWNING OR HOLDING 1 PERCENT OR MORE OF TOTAL AMOUNT OF BONDS, MORTGAGES OR OTHER SECURITIES (If there are none, so state.)
9. FOR COMPLETION BY NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS AUTHORIZED TO MAIL AT SPECIAL RATES (Section 132.122, Postal Manual) (Check one) The purpose, function, and nonprofit status of this organization and the exempt status for Federal income tax purposes: <input type="checkbox"/> Have not changed during preceding 12 months <input type="checkbox"/> Have changed during preceding 12 months (If changed, publisher must submit explanation of change with this statement.)
10. EXTENT AND NATURE OF CIRCULATION		AVERAGE NO. COPIES EACH ISSUE DURING PRECEDING 12 MONTHS
A. TOTAL NO. COPIES PRINTED (Net Press Run) 8800		8800
B. PAID CIRCULATION (1. SALES THROUGH DEALERS AND CARRIERS, STREET VENDORS AND COUNTER SALES; 2. MAIL SUBSCRIPTIONS)		None
C. TOTAL PAID CIRCULATION		In USA 7900 Plus 60-70 in foreign countries
D. FREE DISTRIBUTION (including samples) BY MAIL, CARRIER OR OTHER MEANS		None
E. TOTAL DISTRIBUTION (Sum of C and D)		All
F. OFFICE USE, LEFT-OVER, UNMAILED, WORKED AFTER PRINTING		About 800, many of which are dist. on-campus to students, faculty, etc.
G. TOTAL (Sum of E, D & F—should equal net press run shown in A)		8800
I certify that the statements made by me above are correct and complete.
<small>Signature of editor, publisher, business manager, or owner</small> Freda K. Nadler

Wesleyan College NOW, April 1971. Published six times a year, October, December, February, April, June, and August by the Wesleyan College Alumnae Association, Macon, Georgia 31201. Second class postage paid at Macon, Ga.

EDITOR: FREDA KAPLAN NADLER, AB, '26

ALUMNAE DIRECTOR: FRANCES BRUCE VAN HORN, AB, '53

PRESIDENT, WESLEYAN ALUMNAE ASSN.: NINA SHEPPARD TERRELL, AB, '58

COMING HOME

Reunion, 1971

A FAVORITE MEETING PLACE

Many alumnae enjoyed the Mt. Vernon porch, pictured here. Prints of this original drawing by Linda Otto, '74, of Ramsey, N. J. will be sent to all who contribute to the Loyalty Fund, 1971-72. First of an annual series, all 5" by 7", in black and white, suitable for framing, these prints will become collectors' items.

It was great, they said . . . grand . . . tremendous . . . the finest Alumnae Weekend ever . . . Reunion is the icing on the cake . . .

Friday, March 26, 1971, started off cold and rainy. The indispensable Office Secretary was home with the flu. Every phone call was a possible cancellation. To the contrary, the ringing bell brought requests for additional reservations!

By mid afternoon the sun appeared and so did alumnae—hundreds of them, with many, many husbands, not to mention several babies in arms. There was the usual hugging and kissing, snapshots, tears, promises to come back soon. But this was not just another reunion weekend. This one was different.

From the first moment one sensed a spirit of involvement, of unity, of everybody working together. The student panel — Eloise Brown, Mary Graham Ponder, Wanda Strickland, and Debbie Hall — set the keynote, discussing campus changes. At the banquet Friday night President Strickland reported that in this era of extreme crisis and transition for higher education, Wesleyan's alumnae were rallying magnificently to her support (alumnae sent him 800 names of prospective students for next year).

Older alumnae felt reassured; the young were thrilled at innovations and the new approach. In all there was a spirit of reconciliation.

There was hope for the future, also. Dr. Frederick Wilson, speaking to seniors and candlelighters, expressed the thought that the lighting of fragile candles, in this violent, turbulent world, is a symbol of man's longing to preserve the meaning of life, to survive.

It was a singing weekend, lilting, happy. The Wesleyan Singers carolled the seniors down the aisle; Jane Witham, '68, reunioner from Stamford, Conn., sang at Friday's buffet dinner; a comic opera, "A Game of Chance", filled the Porter Auditorium with song that night; Ann Perkins, junior voice student just back from capturing first place at the national competition in Chicago, shared her talent with an enthusiastic audience Saturday morning; and Nancy Rowland Rehberg, '66, wound up the luncheon with songs from "Oliver". And there was the Alma Mater, with young and older voices blending in "Hail, Wesleyan."

A highlight of the weekend was Linda Lane's evaluation of Project '71, a ringing assertion of the new spirit of cooperation, of at-onement which prevails today at Wesleyan. Her Saturday morning speech is reported in this issue.

It was good to come home to Wesleyan, said "the girls", to see old friends again, and to be suffused with the newly oriented Spirit of Wesleyan.

Registered for Reunion, 1971

(Not on list, but also present, were a number of husbands and other friends)

1904
Anderson, Leila Harrison

1905
Roberts, Lillian Solomon

1907
Dasher, Odille King

1908
Dessau, Frances Stevens

1911
Hudson, Frances Davenport

1912
Ellis, Vera Sanders (Hon.)
Evans, Alice Domingos
Hinton, Aileen Poer
Manget, Jennie Loyall
Manget, Dr. Fred

1913
Anderson, Annie Gantt
Carnes, Katharine P.
Heath, Cornelia Adams
Holliday, Martha Riley

1914
Clay, Emma Drew
Malone, Anne Marchman

1916
McDaniel, Emily Heath
Shaffer, Verna French
Shingler, Annie Shingler
Thomas, Edwina Teasley

1917
Plant, Elizabeth Davenport

1918
Horton, Louise King

1919
Domingos, Lucia Chappell
Holmes, Ann Martin
Lane, Linda Anderson
Lumpkin, Lila

1920
Hartness, Harriet King
Johnstone, Anne Schaut (Hon.)
Jones, Florence Trimble

1921
Baker, Martha Clark
Burke, Lora Waterman
Cohen, Sylvia Kaplan
Douglass, Mabel Woodward
Douglass, Francis M. (Son)
Fox, Louise Withington
Griffin, Mamie Marchman
Griffin, Dr. H. W.
Hart, Emmie Powers
Jones, Genevieve Broome
Lee, Maude Bradley

1923
Garrett, Martha Lifsey

1925
Camp, Maryella
Shiver, Cornelia
Winn, Elizabeth

1926
Nadler, Freda Kaplan
Oliphant, Jeanette Wallace
Snow, Frances Cater

1928
Powell, Kathleen Mackey
Rigdon, Edythe Miller
Rigdon, Louis T.
St. John, Virginia Banks
Willingham, Aileen West

1929
Strozier, Anne Smith

1930
Anderson, Ruth Smith
Carlton, Louise Mackey
Cormack, Louise Upshaw
Dennis, Helen Ross
Eubanks, LeVert Shepherd
Green, Charlye Matthews
Peterson, Grace Hendricks
Pierson, Carolyn Anderson
Sullivan, Emily Orr
Thornton, Cornelia Turner
Marks, Lucile Trowbridge

1931
Allen, Martha Pate
Baxter, Elizabeth Moate
Belcher, Elizabeth Anderson
Drenon, Oneta Mathews
Evans, Julia Bryant

Gilbert, Betty Prater
Harris, Safford
Heyward, Mildred Goodrum
Huey, Helen Cahill
Hurst, Mary McDaniel
Nixon, Hazel Macon
Malone, Claire Carter
Owen, Evelyn Edwards
Pierce, Julia Bell
Ponder, Mary Elizabeth Dumas
Ross, Rachel Johnson
Sugg, Betsy McConnell
Webb, Josephine Lott
Wood, Effie Mae Dunn
Young, Janie Sims
King, Annette White

1932
Anderson, Laura Gilbert
Bentley, Ida Mae Smith
Collar, Estelle King
Morgan, Malene Lee
Munford, Virginia Townsends
Paul, Mary Felton
Simmons, Dorothy H.
Smith, Eunice Partin
Smith, Frances Knott
Vinson, Lula Calhoun

1933
Bledsoe, Ernestine
Davis, Lois Bennett
Horton, Margaret Burch
Isaacs, Margaret Cantrell
Smith, Julia A.
Thomas, Lorena G.
Walker, Katherine Snooks
Wright, Ruth Fulwood

1935
Cate, Louise Manget
Cate, Tom
Cate, Louise

1936
Jordan, Geraldine Garrett
Powell, Mary Ann Peacock
Warren, Marie Haley

1938
Bowen, Elizabeth Bowers
Munck, Ann

1939
Domingos, Ann Maria
Ivey, Virginia Anderson

1940
Carlisle, Carol Jones
Domingos, Alice

1942
Efland, Mildred Fincher
Green, Jane Mulkey
Green, Rufus K.
Webb, Emily Hearn

1943
Metts, Jane Shearouse
Stephenson, Lilly Lake

1944
McCowen, Virginia McClellan
Pease, Mary Matthews

1945
Arrington, Helene Andrews
Golson, Alice Childs

1946
Anders, Rebekah Yates
Arnold, Lina Jones
Barnwell, Ruth Middlebrooks
Barnwell, J. M.
Clark, Sue Lott

Eros, Dorothy Barge
Gavigan, Mary Louise Davis
Hall, Mae Eason
Hollomon, Ophelia Trice
Holman, Emma Lee Felkel
Jones, Lou Matteson

Jones, H. J., Jr.
McArthur, Dorothy Wilson
McCall, Jane Kollock
McCall, Guyton B.

McMurray, Rosalyn Lane
Morris, Helen Proctor
Morris, Robert
Quinly, Clifton Wight
Quinly, William J.

Rush, Peggy Stewart
Skene, Louise Pate
Struby, Jane Spearman

Tanis, Tracy Horton
Tierney, Mary McCord
Tripp, Joy Lawless
Turner, Laura Jones
Turner, H. L.

1947
Dunn, Betty Hall
Henry, Jane Epps
Noble, Letty Cooper

1948
Nicholas, Christine

1950
Jones, Dana Bedgood

1951
Anthony, Jane Wilkin
Boswell, Daisy Weathers
Breunig, Jane Rand
Campbell, Frances Sinback
Dunwoody, Helen Longino
Gaddis, Martha Banks
Hogan, Jean Elsom
Hollis, Allee Gardiner
Leggett, Binky Russell
Miller, Elinor Sullivan
Neylans, Betty
Smith, Betty
Sperry, Joanne Bolton
Squires, Marjorie Perkins
Watson, Day Wilson

1952
Armbrecht, Jean Taylor
Bauman, Martha Davis
Deal, Betty Banks
Dingler, Ann Byrd
DuBose, Mary Eva Bryan
Houston, Jacqueline Norman
Jarnagin, Alice Williams
Lee, Delam Findlay
Major, Suzanne McCowen
Montet, Nancy Lewis
Smith, Jean Armstrong
Smith, Vann Snell
Stewart, Daisie Jane Robinson

1953
Beall, Edwina Hall
Beall, Dennis
Bissell, Mayson Thornton
Doty, Margaret Neal
Doty, Clayton N.
Gowen, Ollie Ann King
Hamilton, Alice Ann
Littleton, Pat Hammond
McGee, Mary Joe Cawley
Martin, Laura Aylor
Reid, Kathleen Harper
Sparrow, Grace Maxwell
Sparrow, Julian
Van Horn, Frances Bruce
Van Horn, Richard
Whitehurst, Elaine Wood
Whitehurst, Jim
Willis, Kathryn Parsons

1954
Buttrill, Athelyn Wade
Coburn, Barbara Walker
Conner, Jeannine Hinson
Edwards, Marilyn Bennett
Edwards, Robert
Evans, Sylvia Crum
Fawcett, Emily Cook
Fruit, Ruth White
Hawley, Neal Thornton
Hawley, David P.
Kirksey, Doris Chitwood
Odum, Ann Parsons
Paris, Joyce
Shanks, Blaine Ross
Walker, Barbara Watson

1955
Schafer, Joyce Reddick

1956
Meadows, Mary Ann Roach
Meadows, Joe Walker

1957
Grimes, Harriette Wilkes

1958
Terrell, Nina Sheppard
Terrell, Dean

1959
Butler, Betty Blalock
Peavy, Mary Louise Banks

1960
Richardson, Jackie Davis
Richardson, David
Roberts, Tena
Strohecker, Frances (Hon.)

1962
Hubbard, Sherry Staples

1964
Schwanebeck, Betty Williams

1966
Dorflinger, Martye Shanks
Everage, Aileen Fernandez
Everage, Edward, Jr.
Harrington, Dianne Phelps
Jackson, Jane Robertson
Jordan, Linda Harrison
Kleckley, Jean Gilbert
Lang, Martha McGough
Maddox, Maxine
Martin, Joy Lewis
Mathews, Cile Adams
Mignerey, Lynden Wall
Miller, Carol
Nimnicht, Deborah Laseter
Rehberg, Nancy Rowland
Shipp, Sandra Bell
Shipp, Robert
Smith, Charlotte Jon
Tanner, Martha Cash
Thrift, Mary
Williams, Dale McNatt

1967
Bine, Deborah Lazarus
Chittick, Marilyn Vickers
Conover, Anne Johnson
DeBerry, Kathleen L.
Golden, Carol Anne
Hale, Elaine McClendon
McCumber, Susan Cooke
Middlebrooks, Susan Rau
New, Kay Williams
Parr, Anne Telford
Rauschenberg, Verna Mobley
Sell, Gwen Sorrell
Smitha, Helen Harwell
Wenz, Barbara F. B.
Williams, Flo

1968
Agnew, Gay Hafner
Anderson, Lynda Ogburn
Clark, Gayle
Harvey, Catherine Cushing
Hippis, Elizabeth Smith
Jaus, Vicki Page
Johnson, Katherine Wilson
Jordan, Nancy McCowell
Lester, Susan Jones
Martin, Ellen Beard
Medlock, Susan Cobligh
Mitchell, Beverly
Moore, Suzanne
Plunkett, Connie Berg
Plunkett, Tom
Stubbs, Sharon
Ward, Jean Russell
Ward, Jackson P. III
Witham, Jana Laine

1969
Bickerstaff, Betty
Boyd, Sharon Malone
Dunaway, Julie Shingler
Estill, Katharine C.
Eversole, Sandy
Ewing, Susan E.
Garr, Karen
Isaacs, Susan A.
Kitchens, Patricia Pace
Kitchens, Henry Joel
Lowe, Holly
McNair, Katherine
Meacham, Jean
Mills, Susan Rogers
Richardson, Diana Hall
Richardson, Fred L.
Samford, Lucinda
Smith, Dotti
Tootle, Barbara Bugg
Woodham, Suzanne E.
Wuller, Nan Pelle

1970
Cook, Emily Chase
Derby, Linda
Freeney, Karen Murphy
VonLehe, Virginia C.
Yager, Jeanne

1971
Bruce, Carol
Fields, Kathy L.
Floyd, Cynthia Leaptrot
Hollomon, Frances O.
Kitchens, Katherine Elaine
Rogers, Pricilla Campbell
Wilkins, Diane

1972
Jennings, Martha Ann
FRIENDS
Jelks, Doris Onderdonk
O'Neal, Mrs. B. P.

WARM WELCOME FOR ALL

At the President's reception alumnae and other friends are greeted by Dr. and Mrs. W. Earl Strickland (center, below). Shown receiving also are Alumnae Director Frances Bruce Van Horn (l.) and Dean Terrill, husband of Nina Sheppard Terrell, (r. above), association president, and (l.) Mr. and Mrs. David Richardson (Jackie Davis), first VP and reunion chairman.

FOCUS ON CHANGE

*I am always honored to be in the midst of Wesleyan alumnae. That's a good thing, because I have been surrounded by Wesleyan alumnae all my life. We could really make a sizable alumnae association just out of the members of my family. I was born into a relationship with this institution and the experience is such a personal identity that, while technically I cannot call myself an alumna since my four college years were spent elsewhere, I really feel that I am one of you. I believe that those four college years after that, which I spent studying in New York, were the only years of my life not connected with Wesleyan. As you heard, many members of my family were trustees and now my brother is a trustee.

My earliest childhood recollections are connected with Wesleyan. I can remember walking across the campus (and this dates me) in the Centennial Pageant with a little friend of mine carrying Miss Dolly Lamar's train. I remember when I was eight years old learning the Alma Mater on the piano for my mother's Christmas present. I can remember an office that my grandmother set in her house during a campaign back in the '30s. My father said he was afraid to go to sleep at night for fear my mother would murder him and give the insurance money to Wesleyan. I studied piano at the Conservatory from the time that I was eight years old until I went off to College and I have been teaching here more years than I care to remember so this is sufficient. This college is not buildings and mortar and a mobile roster of students to me, but it represents the love and loyalty and the very investment of the lives of people I love the most.

*Trustees:

Grandfather, W. D. Anderson,
Chairman of the Board
Father, Van McKibben Lane
Brother, Van McKibben Lane, Jr.
(Current)

Alumnae Trustees:
Grandmother, Linda McKinney Anderson, '93
Mother, Linda Anderson Lane, '19

The subject of my talk this morning is "Focus on Change", . . . and I want to tell you a story—the story of Project '71.

This was a very exciting adventure to many of us and the injection of this new program into this old institution is already generating more fundamental changes than we had anticipated. As you well know, the private colleges are fighting for their lives today. The whirlwinds of change are all around us and I predict that only those colleges will survive that are flexible enough to adapt to the constantly shifting demands of an unpredictable world. Change is nothing new to cope with. It has always been a factor. Someone has said that he was sure at some point in the Garden of Eden Adam paused and said to Eve, "Eve, we are living in a period of transition."

Even the forces which produce change are old and not new. About a week ago I was thumbing through some old Alumnae Magazines Aunt Jenny had brought to the house. I picked one at random which happened to be from 1939. I opened it at random to an article entitled "Are State Universities Crowding Out the Privately Endowed Colleges?" I closed the magazine and decided there was nothing new under the sun. So what we must see is a constant and endless interweaving of change into continuity. Our hope for Wesleyan is that she be able to absorb change without losing her distinctive style and character.

From my perspective as a faculty member, let me set the stage for the way Wesleyan was about a year ago—say January, 1970. All of us had for several years been witnessing a declining enrollment, an attrition rate that was very disturbing, and we stood by almost in desperation seeing only disaster at the end of the road. We, like other colleges, seemed to be caught in a downward spiral leading to extinction. It was like being sucked into a whirlpool.

For years the faculty had toyed with various ideas of calendar change —alternatives to the two semester system or the quarter system—primarily so that we could have exams before Christmas instead of after Christmas. In the fall, about a year ago, the Calendar Committee came up with one of its perennial suggestions of change. This was that we keep the semester system but split the first semester into two parts. Students would take approximately four courses and exams before Christmas, then one course during the month of January. It was actually this calendar change which was the catalyst for all the change that was to follow. This is a good example of how relatively minor events can produce important results. Here was the month of January, a new kind of time slot that demanded a new kind of educational program to make it valid. The Faculty, and I speak of them here in capitals as a corporate body, started to sense a unique opportunity beginning to emerge.

One Sunday morning in January, 1970, Sylvia Ross, who is, of course, a member of our Music Department and Choir Director at Vineville Methodist Church, descended from the choir loft after the service to describe to me an idea that had occurred to her. Now Sylvia is a very fine Christian person and I don't want to insinuate that her mind wandered during the church service, and certainly not during one of Frederick Wilson's sermons, but, in any event her idea became the shell of what was to be Project '71. She sounded out several of us and we became more and more enthusiastic. Dr. Strickland called a faculty meeting and Sylvia presented a vision of the whole campus functioning as a community for the month of January. We could do in a school this size what would be impossible in a larger school—that is to focus together on various aspects of a single issue, relating courses to the central theme and interrelating courses to each other. Rather than being fragmented into our different departments and different disciplines, we could transcend these boundaries and develop interdisciplinary and experimental courses around the central theme which Sylvia had suggested, The Cultural Revolution. This theme had ramifications for all areas and was broad enough to allow endless possibilities of probing into various aspects of contemporary society.

This vision of unity and community was the essence of the uniqueness of Project '71. Other schools have January terms but they are interim periods when the students travel or do independent research. Wesleyan was bringing the outside world in, and integrating a whole program of study around it. We saw the month as a time to experiment with the learning process—with new courses, with new methods of presenting materials, trying to find alternatives to the old lecture methods when the student takes notes from the time the teacher says good morning and parrots them back at exam time. We felt that, in many instances, the students knew aspects of the cultural revolution of which the faculty, perhaps, was unaware and the best possible experience was in learning together from each other with open lines of communication instead of authoritative pronouncements. We wanted to experiment with grades and have the learning experience as an end in itself rather than a grade. We felt the necessity for creativity and individual research geared to individual talent. We felt the need to nourish the spontaneous and the unique as a change of pace from the historic and the traditional. So out of a desire for unity, experimentation, and creativity was born Project '71. A faculty committee was appointed and came back within a week with a committee structure which the faculty voted in without a dissenting vote. If any of you have ever been on the faculty you know this is a miraculous event, because we are notoriously cantankerous. And then we were off and running. There was a conviction among many of us that this was our lifeline and we had better grab it or else.

... a view of unity and community ...

The quotation which occurred to me over and over during those days were those familiar lines from Julius Caesar:

"There is a tide in the affairs of men

Which, taken at its flood, leads on to fortune;

Omitted, all the voyage of their life
Is bound in shallows and in misery."

The faculty began to ride this tide and they never let it go. Dr. Strickland was a real rock throughout. He stayed with us through thick and thin and if it had not been for his belief in the program and his support, we would never have had a program at all.

We approached the students immediately because, of course, their cooperation and understanding were essential. The undertaking must be a joint one and the students were an integral part from the earliest planning stages. They actually made application for the committee that most appealed to them, the applications were screened by their class officers, and we ended up with every committee having five faculty members and four students. When we invited the students to join with us we did not really know where we were going or what shape we were going to create but we thought the process of working it out was part of the project. As we worked together a certain respect and mutual understanding was bound to evolve.

Trying to describe to you what actually happened during the month is all but impossible. In the interest of brevity I have discarded about four talks. It was the kind of affair that generated as many different reactions as there were participants. The valid response to the month is a very personal and individual one and it is just impossible to generalize about it. Maybe I can just hit a few of the highlights.

The programs that the faculty seemed to find the most stimulating, and we gathered this material from questionnaires sent out at the end of the month, were, first of all, James Dickey, who spoke the opening night of our January term. He achieved an instant rapport with the students, spontaneous, affable, and we all felt we were in the presence of one of the most outstanding writers in the South today. He stayed two days—read his poetry one night and the next day held two seminars on campus. We were really anxious for the central presentations to fertilize the small discussion groups to be joined up with the classroom so that we would not have this an isolated lecture series. The students were not required to attend any of these central presenta-

... central presentations fertilize small discussion groups ...

MISS LINDA LANE

Here is a transcript of the tape made of Miss Lane's talk. Not a written "address", it was delivered with such verve and enthusiasm that it became one of the most moving and meaningful we ever presented.

tions, but after Mr. Dickey's opening they became intrigued and attendance at central presentations actually grew during the month.

Another very thought-provoking program was by Mr. Charles Rembar, a lawyer who had taken the cases of Lady Chatterly's Lover and the Tropic of Cancer through the Supreme Court. An urbane, elegant man, he gave some literate and civilized views on the role of obscenity in our culture today.

The third program that was particularly exciting was Patricia Harris, a black woman who has served as our Ambassador to Luxembourg, who spoke on Racism in America. She told it straight and she did not pull any punches but again it was from a broad and thoughtful perspective.

We had some great courses. Let me just remind you of a few of the titles—Politics in the 60's and 70's, Psychological Bases of the Cultural Revolution, Afro-American Culture, Zen Buddhism, Contemporary Humor, Satirical Lyrics in Popular Music. The faculty and students generally made heroic efforts to be creative and responsive to the goals of the project. Of course, there were some goof-offs—faculty and students—and, of course, the success was not totally uniform, but we felt that we had a really fine batting average, especially for a first attempt. In the project courses the students had a choice of either being graded, by letter grade as usual, or they could choose to be evaluated on a credit-no credit basis which simply gave or withheld hours toward graduation.

ANDERSON FAMILY HAS REUNION OF ITS OWN

In center is Miss Leila Anderson, and with her (l. to r.) are members of the Anderson family (her brother was W. D. Anderson, long-time chairman of Wesleyan's Board): Mrs. Thomas Cate (Louise Manget), Dr. Fred Manget, Mrs. Fred Manget (Jennie Loyall), Mrs. George Ivey (Virginia Anderson), Linda Lane, (Alumnae Day speaker) Mrs. McKibben Lane (Linda Anderson), Mrs. Mac Allister Isaacs (Margaret Cantrell), Mrs. L. G. Pierson (Carolyn Anderson), Louise Cate, and Thomas Cate.

At the end of January Wesleyan was a different school. The central presentations had been interesting, but it seemed to me that it had been the courses, the really innovative and creative ones, that had been the most impressive and the most influential. Lines of communication had been opened and a rapport and a give and take had been greatly increased.

One of the most exciting aspects of the year was that the Faculty Curriculum Committee in the month of January had been holding hearings every day to get constructive ideas from faculty, and students and administration on ways in which we could improve the total curriculum. They were taking testimony which resulted in a totally revised curriculum for the whole academic year starting next fall. The flexibility, individuality, and creativity that so stimulated the January term are now possible in the total program. One meeting of the Curriculum Committee was attended by about twenty representatives of the freshman class. 'This, we thought, was one of the healthiest events of all. The whole freshman class had met several days before. They had come up with some very constructive suggestions about curriculum, about major areas, core curriculum, and grading, and they were bringing their ideas and suggestions to the Curriculum Committee. These students were taking responsibility for their institution instead of just griping in the dormitories and drifting away. They said the fact that Project '71 had taken place at all encouraged them to hope for more. Many who were planning to leave because of a rather antiquated academic program wanted to stay if revisions could be made, and these have been made. The door is now open for many exciting programs to take place.

An Evaluating Committee is still tabulating the results of the questionnaire given to all students and faculty the last week of the January term. We made many mistakes. We must learn from these mistakes and improve the program. However, the response to the inauguration of Project '72 was overwhelmingly positive. Only 19 students out of a total of 384 who answered the questionnaire voted against Project '72, and most of these had taken catalogue courses rather than innovative courses. The Faculty voted to inaugurate Project '72 without a dissenting vote. The Board of Directors, with Joyce Schafer in charge, is hard at work on Project '72 and it should be new and different and very challenging. The theme for Project '72 is "Patterns for Change", and this brings me back again to the original topic for my talk this morning.

GREAT GREAT NIECE

Twelve of Miss Leila's nieces and great nieces attended Wesleyan. Here is great great niece, Melissa Lane Thomas, class of '69, with her daughter Kelly (great, great, great!)

At this point, you see, we are not at the completion of a program but at the beginning. Project '71 was never an end in itself, but a yeast to generate an endless process of innovation and creativity throughout all aspects of the college. Where this momentum will take us will be another adventure. Our constant challenge, and the one that Wesleyan alumnae have faced so nobly throughout their history will lie in forgetting ourselves as we strive to make this institution fulfill its great potential.

One of the finest speakers we had during Project '71 was the keynote speaker, Dr. Walter Metzger, who is a historian from Columbia University. He said that personal fulfillment lies in transcending oneself in commitment to a great cause or a great institution. Wesleyan College will survive and it will prevail because for many of us Wesleyan College is that cause and that institution.

FROM 60 YEARS AGO, '11

Only one showed up, Frances Davenport Hudson, Americus, Ga. here with her sister, Elizabeth Davenport Plant, 7, Macon, (l.)

FAIREST OF THEM ALL

Alumnae of all ages looked beautiful at reunion. Here are three "decades". Other pictures of groups appear in Class Notes. Many drifted away from their group before the photographer came around; several dispersed completely.

Many bought paintings (r.) of the Original Building; others ordered mirrors topped with this picture, hand-painted on reverse glass with silvery gold-leafed frame. Now on order: Painting, 10" x 15", $22.00; trumeau (mirror-painting), 15" x 28", $35.00, plus tax and postage.

MIRROR, MIRROR

FROM 50 YEARS AGO, '21's

FROM 40 YEARS AGO, '31's

ALUMNAE AWARDS...

Distinguished Achievement

LEILA HARRISON ANDERSON

Class of 1904

Leila Anderson, of Marietta, Ga., has the distinction among our alumnae of probably being the only Red Cross nurse to serve our country in France during World War I. After her studies at Wesleyan she entered the first class that was graduated from Wesley Monumental Hospital School of Nursing, which later became the Emory University Hospital School of Nursing. In 1917, she went to France with the Emory University Medical Unit, the only such unit from Georgia, and was stationed in Blois in an American Base Hospital entirely staffed by U. S. doctors and nurses. When the war was over she was sent to Commercys to serve as chief nurse at the hospital there, after which she went with the Army of Occupation into Germany, to the hospital at Coblenz, in the Rhine Valley. For these World War I activities the Georgia Division, UDC, awarded a "Cross of Service" to Leila, their only daughter who was a direct descendent of a Confederate soldier (her father). In the years following her return to her homeland, this remarkably fine RN has dedicated herself to nursing the sick, an inspiration to her family and friends. She retired from her profession in 1937. A sister of the late Mr. W. D. Anderson, long-time chairman of the Wesleyan Board of Trustees, she is a member of a family known for its loyalty and support of Wesleyan. She has seen many relatives attend the Oldest and Best, among them twelve nieces and great nieces, including one great great niece. Through the years she has been generous to the College. She recently presented her Red Cross uniform to the Alumnae Association, to be preserved in our museum of the future. At a time when most females were homebodies, Leila Anderson ventured forth on a career of distinguished achievement which reflects honor upon Wesleyan, for which today we salute her.

SYLVIA KAPLAN COHEN

BS 1921

While at Wesleyan, which she entered as a sophomore after a year at the University of Chicago, Sylvia served as student assistant to Miss Virginia Garner in the English Department and as editor of the Wesleyan Magazine and president of the Macon Club. After graduation, she taught freshman English for a year at Wesleyan and for two years at Lanier High School, then married Dr. Seymour J. Cohen and lived in Chicago. Chiefly concerned with being a wife and mother, she had time for study groups and club work and courses in library science at Rosary College. She had become interested in medical literature, doing reading, abstracting and literature searches for her husband, and after his death, made this her career. She established and served for nineteen years as head of the Reference Department at the Maisson Medical Advertising Agency in Chicago, being responsible for surveying virtually all English language medical journals, and abstracting significant articles for use by clients in their research and in programs to inform physicians of advancements in drug therapy and nutrition. For seven years, she edited, for an agency client, a bimonthly brochure of abstracts on penicillin and other antibiotics, which was sent to physicians throughout the United States and, by request, to physicians and medical libraries in other countries. The past eight years she has been a copy editor at Year Book Medical Publishers, evaluating and editing abstracts of articles from the world literature. Sylvia has taken graduate courses at Northwestern and Roosevelt universities, is an avid reader, and has a keen interest in current events. She has reared and educated two daughters and is now proud of her five grandchildren. Past retirement age, she still holds a responsible position. Members of the Golden Anniversary Class, feeling that she "has

IOLA WISE STETSON

Class of 1914

Member of a family associated with Wesleyan in attendance, service and giving for the past hundred years or more, Iola Wise Stetson has been a benefactor of numerous worthwhile causes and institutions. As a wife and mother, she has led a busy life and is still active in many cultural pursuits. She has been a working member in St. James Church, New York for over fifty years. In 1966, she was invested by permission of the Queen of England, an associate officer (Sister) in the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem. In 1968, she received a Doctor of Laws degree from Mercer University in recognition of her support and interest in Christian education. Among her projects is the Eugene William Stetson Library which she and her family gave in memory of her late husband to his Alma Mater. Mr. Stetson aided Wesleyan greatly at a time of extreme crisis, and his wife's service and generosity have been noteworthy. In 1946, she became Alumnae Trustee and acted as chairman to raise funds for an alumnae house. The Georgia Room of our library treasures an original map from "Eneas Africanus," also a cross presented by Mr. and Mrs. Stetson, carved from the Wesley Oak, under which John Wesley preached at St. Simons. In appreciation of her generosity in the campaign for the Wesleyan Fund, the Board of Trustees voted last spring to name in her honor one of the main arteries of the campus, which curves from the library to Tucker Road. Recognizing her philanthropy to education and to the arts, we are honored today to present to Iola Wise Stetson an Alumnae Award for Distinguished Achievement.

not only been a credit to Wesleyan but has made a contribution to the health of our nation," nominated Sylvia Kaplan Cohen for an Alumnae Award for Achievement, which we are proud to present to this Golden Girl.

CAROL JONES CARLISLE
AB 1940, Summa Cum Laude;
MA and PhD, Univ. of N. C.

A native of Lakeland, Fla., Carol Whitt Jones "literally swept away all the scholastic honors at Wesleyan, besides being active on practically all publications and organizations," according to the 1940 Veterropt. After graduating she taught English at Pearl River Junior College in Mississippi and also at Wesleyan. She met her husband, Douglas Carlisle, while both were studying at the University of North Carolina, and both received their doctorates in June, 1951. Since 1946 she has been a member of the faculty at the University of South Carolina, is professor of English there and associate head of the Department of English. In 1954 and 1960 she received Folger Research Grants for research at the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, D. C. continuing this work at Harvard University and in New York. In 1967-68, she was a fellow of the Cooperative Program in the Humanities, sponsored by Duke University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. This research led to the writing of her book, "Shakespeare from the Greenroom: Actors' Criticisms of Four Great Tragedies," published in 1969 by the University of North Carolina Press. Considered an authority on Shakespeare, she is the author of many articles and reviews. For the past several years she has been doing research on the life of the Victorian actress, Helen Faucit, with a view to writing her biography. She has spent two summers in England gathering material and plans to return there in July to continue her investigation until Christmas. This extended stay is made possible by her appointment as Research Professor for the fall semester. Carol is the mother of two children. A dedicated teacher and a talented writer, she is bringing to fruition the predictions of her Wesleyan English professor, Dr. G. W. Gignilliat. "Dr. Gin" said that here was a student of whom Wesleyan could be very proud, who would one day be recognized by the world and her Alma Mater. Today we delight in granting her the Alumnae Award for Achievement.

Name for Awards?

It is not too early to send to the Alumnae Office nominations for Alumnae Awards for 1972. Anyone may nominate, and the recipient does not have to be a graduate. Awards are for Distinguished Achievement and for Distinguished Service to Wesleyan.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE TO WESLEYAN

ELIZABETH WINN, AB 1925

Belonging to a family intimately identified with the College prior to her generation, in her own generation, and continuing after her graduation, Elizabeth Winn has become the personification of the Wesleyan tradition and ideals. Retired last summer, she served as Registrar of Wesleyan for forty-five years, the longest period of service that any administrative officer has given to the College. Within that span, the majority of alumnae now living have been graduated. Integrity and devotion to the highest standards — academic and personal — have characterized her life. In recognition of these qualities, faculty and administrators alike have considered her a point of reference in matters of school policy. Further, the many intangible influences she has had on the thought of both students and faculty would be too numerous to list. The backbone of Wesleyan's liberal arts society, Phi Delta Phi, she has stressed and encouraged scholarly achievement; Phi Kappa Phi, academic honor society which now incorporates Phi Delta Phi, recently elected her to Emeritus Life Membership. Her versatility is amazing — the sincere intellectual approach to the deep things of life, mechanical dexterity that brings order to the component parts of a hi-fi set, an inquiring mind that probes science fiction for the wonders of the future, her love of nature and her Green Thumb. Perhaps you remember she was a star of the varsity basketball team as a student. Personal sacrifices of time and money have proved her loyalty to Wesleyan, through tribulations, depressions and wars. Because of her long years of consistent quality service to Wesleyan, the love and devotion she has given — and received — we consider it a privilege to present to Elizabeth Winn, faithful, efficient, and dedicated guardian of the academic records, this year's only Alumnae Award for Distinguished Service to Wesleyan.

AWARD WINNERS

Leila, Sylvia, Elizabeth and Carol holding their citations. Accepting for her sister, Iola Wise Stetson, was Mrs. B. P. O'Neal, Macon, shown at Saturday luncheon with Robert Wys, assistant to Wesleyan's president.

OF THE CLASSES

'91

AGNES JONES TOWERS, Jacksonville, Fla., celebrated her 97th birthday July 31, with an open house attended by her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren, including a daughter and husband from Birmingham, England.

'04

next reunion in '74

LEILA ANDERSON, Marietta, Ga., represented the oldest class to return for reunion.

'05

next reunion in '73

Congratulations to Dr. Charles H. Richardson, husband of the late loyal and beloved alumna, ANNA SHAW RICHARDSON, on celebrating his 85th birthday last Sept. One of the founders of the Middle Georgia Hospital, "Dr. Charlie", retired, is still trim and active, visiting each new patient at the hospital almost daily. His mother was also a graduate.

'06

next reunion in '73

Sympathy to LOUISE MONNING ELLIOTT, Amarillo, Texas, on the death this past year of her brother, Ben, and two sisters-in-law, also on the illness of her only son, Bill. In a Christmas note shared with us by OCTAVIA BURDEN STEWART, we were happy to learn that she gets such great joy from three smart, good-looking grandsons, Elliott, a student at Yale; Will, in Oxford; and Matthew, in high school, all over six feet, two. Recently she wrote: "How I would love to be at the reunion! Are there many left? . . . My good friends Martha Kaderly and Elizabeth Hill Martin are gone and will not be there, bless them, but I am curious who among us is left. I would certainly love to see them, but a trip is beyond my strength now."

'08

next reunion in '73

LILLIE DICKSON ARNOLD has moved from Warren, Mich., to Chicago. "My memories of Old Wes-

Editor's Note: With Class Notes appearing but twice a year now, in April and December, some of them may get a trifle dated. Please bear with us and continue sending your news items. All the alumnae love them. Thanks!

FKN

leyan and Mr. Guerry, Miss Banks Armand, and Miss Margie Burkes have been very dear to me," she writes in her beautiful hand.

NEWELL MASON, now at the Town and Country Convalescent Home, 1060 Old New Clinton Rd., Macon, would love to hear from friends. She reads, watches TV, and still writes spirited letters to the newspapers!

'09

next reunion in '72

LOUISE DAVIS DAVISON, Atlanta, was featured in a full page of the women's section of the Biloxi-Gulfport (Miss.) DAILY HERALD Oct. 25 while she was visiting friends in Bay St. Louis. Founder in 1928 of the Davison School of Speech Correction, Atlanta, from which she retired last year, Louise remains as chairman of its board. She was en route home from the Academy of Aphasia in New Orleans. The article, with five large pictures, told of her career and the methods she employs.

'10

next reunion in '72

SUSAN KRONER SHAW writes: "I am a loyal Wesleyanne at heart, tho I haven't been back for years. We mostly travel from Daytona Beach to our North Michigan cottage . . . We will have our 56th wedding anniversary in June this year. Still going strong, busy, and interested in a number of things. I enjoy the magazine and find names of girls I used to know — sometimes I mean to write to them! My sister Misa Kroner, now Mrs. Snell Johnson of Rainbow Estates near Stone Mountain, Ga., is ill after two operations, but is still full of spiritual uplift, active at home . . . no children, but devoted to my two, a son in Cleveland and daughter in Knoxville, Tenn. We see all these members of my family frequently during our travels . . ."

'13

next reunion in '73

EVELYN ESTES SOMERVILLE, Cleveland, Miss.: "I would love to join you for reunion but I am too old to strike out alone . . . I am having trouble with my eyes . . . I do very little now. I will be with you in my thoughts. Lots of love to all the girls."

'14

next reunion in '74

Sympathy to the family of SALLIE MAE KENNEMUR YOUMANS, who passed away Jan. 12 at 78. A teacher for 35 years, she was honored on retirement with a "This is your Life" program.

'15

next reunion in '75

FRANCES HOLDEN MORRISON, Waycross, Ga., wrote she enjoyed seeing Robert Wys, of our Development Office, when he met with alumnae in Waycross in Nov.

MARY QUILLIAN POOLE, Atlanta, wrote: "I like the new News Letter, 'Wesleyan College, NOW.'"

MARGARET AKERMAN MENARD wrote a nice letter, enclosing her Loyalty Fund contribution, "in appreciation for all that Wesleyan has meant to me over the years. My husband, Albert, and I are back in Georgia at the Magnolia Manor Retirement Home in Americus (owned by the Methodist Church, people of different faiths accepted). We found a number of Wesleyan alumnae here and several former staff members of the college, which has made it very pleasant for me . . . it is always a pleasure to receive the alumnae magazine . . . The recent cover picture of Lillian Solomon Roberts was very lovely."

'16

next reunion in '76

VERNA FRENCH SHAFFER, Cordele, Ga.: "Thank you for our wonderful weekend. It turned out beautifully. We had 6 of our classmates there, which was fine for our 55th year. Before we could get a picture we all became scattered. It is always such a joy to see everyone at dear old Wesleyan, altho I miss the towers. The old college holds many precious memories in its ashes. However, the new is making such strides. May it always be not only the oldest, but the best . . . Everything seems so alive now and optimistic. Wesleyan is on the move and always will be. All her daughters love her, and many have contributed much, others in a small way, but it takes it all to put Wesleyan where she is and keep her there and pushing on. Am so glad Cordele is represented by two fine girls and am always hopeful that more will choose Wesleyan, especially those gifted in music."

NANNIE POTTS TRUITT, Walnut Creek, Calif., wrote, with her Loyalty Fund check: "I am delighted that our college is doing so well. We surely do need it and also other colleges with the high ideals of Wesleyan. May that type of college continue to prosper."

'18

next reunion in '73

NELLE BAGWELL NOLAN, formerly of Lawrenceville, Ga., now lives in Miami Shores, Fla.

'19

next reunion in '74

Sympathy to MATTIE MCMATH WHITE on the death of her daughter MARTHA WHITE BLALOCK, '43, and also to her sisters, MARY WHITE WARE, '47, and HELEN WHITE LINDELL, '41, all of Jacksonville, Fla.

'20

next reunion in '74

An Endowed Scholarship for the Golden Class of 1970 has been presented to Wesleyan and will be accepted by the Board of Trustees at their meeting in May. The oil painting of the Wesleyan towers, by Emil Holzhauser, given by this class at their reunion last March, now hangs at the entrance of the Willet Memorial Library.

WILLIE SNOW ETHRIDGE, Moncure, N. C., has a new book scheduled to be published by Vanguard Press in late September, a biography of John Wesley, founder of Methodism. Entitled "Strange Fires", the book is a factual account of the nearly two years John and his brother Charles spent in Georgia, and represents twelve years of work by the author. The title derives from Wesley's prayer that he be delivered from "strange fires", his love for a young girl. Willie was speaker April 3 at the annual Brenda Awards dinner of the Atlanta chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national society for women in journalism and communications. She and husband Mark were in Macon earlier that week for the 99th birthday of her mother, Mrs. W. A. Snow.

GENEVIEVE JONES WAS AT THE WEDDING

Her daughter, Frances Jones Duskin, '41, and granddaughter, Sally Duskin Hand, '68, also Hugh and John, and family of the groom.

'21

next reunion in '74

Golden Girls back for their fiftieth reunion had a ball, as one of them expressed it. A trio of Maconites, MARTHA CLARK BAKER, LORA WATERMAN BURKE, and MAUDE BRADLEY LEE, did the planning, gave the party, and even nominated one of their class, SYLVIA KAPLAN COHEN, for an Alumnae Award (See Awards). At the Friday night party at Martha's they sent a telegram of greeting to their mascot of college days, Billy Quillian, now president of Randolph Macon. They talked and talked, and laughed and shared snapshots—and ate—until well onto midnight. KATHERINE P. CARNES, SALLY WILSON CROCKET, and FREDA KAPLAN NADLER, Alumnae Editor, were special guests. Those present included:

MABEL WOODWARD DOUGLASS, Whitmire, S. C., expressed appreciation "for the effort expended on making Alumnae Weekend a happy return to the college. We are grateful to you for everything. Though I had some apprehension about returning after twenty years, I was happy to find the same Wesleyan spirit which I knew as a student so long ago. Am I a bit prejudiced, or are the alumnae somewhat more stable, more refined, more feminine than the group one finds herself in these days? The students were helpful, friendly, and warm—seemingly no generation gap there. I am happy to find the institution doing well to fulfill its place as a private (church) college. I hope that support to preserve it as such will be provided. I thank you for all that you did for us."

Mabel wrote: "When I get my alumnae magazine I don't do a thing until I've read it from cover to cover. I read all the class notes—I feel that I know all those people!"

Mabel said she waited three years beyond retirement age to stop teaching. She is currently "remaking" her house. Mabel's son Francis, who brought her to reunion, is an analyst in the U. S. State Dept.; son George is on the staff of Veterans Hospital, Charleston, also cardiologist at the Medical University Hospital of S. C.

LOUISE WITHINGTON FOX, Fernandina Beach, Fla., a widow five years, still deals in real estate. Her recent travels include a Christmas cruise to the islands of the Caribbean, a trip to Hawaii, and to New England and Canada.

GENEVIEVE BROOME JONES, West Point, Ga., is an avid bird watcher, travelling from Hawk I., Pa., to Mexico (Dauphine I., off Mobile, is her favorite spot). Her daughter, FRANCES JONES DUSKIN, '41, is the wife of an executive of the W. P. Pepperell Co. Four grandchildren include Sally and Jane Duskin, both of whom attended Wesleyan, making three generations. Her mother, who lives in the family home in Macon, was 102 on March 10, is still alert.

EMMIE POWER HART, Newnan, Ga., is a retired schoolteacher. She does needlepoint, paints white and gold china, knits, and has "started to hook". She has two children, three grandsons, and a granddaughter, ELEANOR HART CLEVELAND, LaGrange, Ga., class of '50.

JENNIE BOONE HOGAN, Macon, studied portrait painting last fall at the Macon Museum of Arts and Sciences, under the Chatoffs.

MAUDE BRADLEY LEE, Macon, retired from personnel work at Armstrong Cork Co. in 1969, is assisting for the moment in a doctor's office. She hooks, knits, and weaves, also supplies as organist at the Lutheran Church.

MARTHA CLARK BAKER, Macon, is Adult Director of the YWCA, part time. Her daughter Martha is at Rutherford, N. C. Her son, the Rev. M. Clark Baker, is an Episcopal Minister in Memphis where he works with the blind. Martha has seven grandchildren.

LORA WATERMAN BURKE, Macon, had a fine trip to Europe last summer. Her son, Ed Jr., is head of the science department at King College, Bristol, Tenn. He married JULIE STRUBY and their children are Ed Burke III, 16, and Julia, 14.

MAMIE MARCHMAN GRIFFIN, Hickory, N. C., was accompanied to reunion by her husband, Dr. Harold W. Griffin, specialist in eye, ear, nose and throat. Their son, Richard, is an ophthalmologist; daughter Beverly (Mrs. John Simon), lives in Elkins, W. Va. The Griffins have three grandchildren. After her 50th at Wesleyan they planned to go to Emory for his.

HOVIS CANTEY SCHOFIELD, Macon, has a son, Lt. Claude Shelverton, in Vietnam. He is a graduate of the U of Hawaii.

CLYDE SMITH, retired as Head Librarian at Raleigh, N. C., could not attend, due to a recent operation.

FANNIE CANTEY DUGGAN, Clemson, S. C., was absent, due to an auto accident.

MARY K. FAGAN TORRENCE, class president, of Savannah, sent love, sorry she could not attend reunion.

ELLAMAE ELLIS LEAGUE, Macon, was honored by the North Georgia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, of which she is a Fellow, by receiving their Ivan Allen Senior Trophy for her efforts for civic improvement and restoration of The Grand Opera House, Macon.

'23

next reunion in '73

LOUISE BALLARD, Waynesville, N. C., was designated B&PW Club's "Woman of the Year" last Oct. Louise has her MA from Emory, a PhD from Northwestern. She was a missionary to China, taught English in Shanghai. In 1946 she moved to Lake Junaluska and became deeply involved in Methodist and garden club work. She is South Atlantic regional garden club director and a master National Flower Show judge.

AURELIA COOPER EVANS, Perry, Ga., retired director of the Houston County Dept. of Family and Children's Services, has been named by Gov. Jimmy Carter as a delegate to the White House conference on the aging. She was assigned to the task force that will study income of elderly persons. Discussions will be held by the Georgia Section in 15 Georgia cities during March and April with a statewide conference May 2-4 on problems of the aging.

'24

next reunion in '74

LEAH KITTRELL, we were happy to learn several months ago, was convalescing at her home in Dublin, Ga., after an illness.

ELOISE GRAHL FLANDERS, Gainesville, Ga., retired this past year after teaching for nearly a half century. Beginning with the high school in Swainsboro, Ga., in 1926, she came to the Hall County system in 1955, at Oakwood and Airline High Schools, then to Tadmore. She tried to teach her students, she said in a long interview in the Gainesville Daily Times, that they were not just citizens of Georgia, but citizens of the world. Of her integrated class she was quoted as saying, "Boys and girls are just boys and girls. If you look for love you will find love, and if you look for trouble, I guess you will find that, too." For five years she worked as postmaster. She has fought crippling arthritis for 35 years, at one time confined to a wheel chair. In her retirement she plans to write.

'25

next reunion in '72

In memory of HELEN ROSE SOUL, who died Feb. 12, Atlanta Alumnae Group IV has contributed to the Wesleyan Alumnae Assn. "She was a very beloved friend and member", wrote

LUCY CUNYURS MULCAHY. "A dedicated librarian, Helen gave 43 years in library service, retiring just before she died. She served in many Atlanta branch libraries, was founder of the Highland branch in 1953. In the early 60's she became Area Supervisor of the Northern Branches for the Atlanta Public Library. In 1965 she and brother Albert gave the Rose Memorial Library in Magnolia Manor, Americus, to honor their parents."

CORNELIA SHIVER, of Wesleyan's history department, had an interesting trip last summer to Spain.

'26

next reunion in '72

ROBERTA HOWARD RUMBLE and husband Emory, Pasadena, Calif., were welcome visitors on campus in Jan. Her uncle, Joe Flournoy, owned the Rivoli property on which Wesleyan is located; as a child Roberta played among the roses — and frogs — on the grounds.

KATHERINE WALKER McELHENNEY, Dallas, Tex., works part-time at Fondren Library at SMU, and loves it, she writes. Daughter Anne, and Charles, with Chuck, 5, and David, 2, are nearby in Fort Worth; Kay and Paul are in St. Paul, Minn., where he teaches at Macalester. "I surely do enjoy THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE. It is the way I have of keeping up with the college and my college friends."

MARGARET ZATTAU ROAN, Gainesville, Ga., "responded beautifully" to a second cataract operation. She wrote in Nov.: "Everyone has been so lovely to me. I think I will be able to navigate more now. I am glad to have lost all that weight."

ELIZABETH CANNON NUNN, Perry, had a delightful Caribbean cruise with friends late in January. Last June she was in Europe on a tour conducted by JOSEPHINE BEDDINGFIELD ABNEY. Her son Sam, attorney, is prominent in civic life. Daughter is BETTY NUNN MORI, '58. Elizabeth has five grandchildren from 10 to one. Two grandsons were born last summer within six weeks.

FREDA KAPLAN NADLER, Macon, Alumnae Editor at Wesleyan, is listed in "Foremost Women in Communications."

EMILY BROWN EDWARDS, Macon, is second vice president of the Georgia Society, Colonial Dames of the XVII Century.

'27

next reunion in '72

Sympathy to RACHEL MOORE BENTLEY, Atlanta, on the death of her husband, William R. Bentley Sr., on Feb. 27. Mr. Bentley, who practiced law in Atlanta for more than 40 years, served as assistant solicitor general for Fulton County.

Congratulations to KATHERINE CATCHINGS WARE, and "Trot", Atlanta, on the christening March 7 of their granddaughter, Virginia Catchings Ware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hall Ware III.

CLASS OF '30

'28

next reunion in '72

Reunion of sisters Alumnae Weekend, brought together KATHLEEN MACKEY POWELL, Atlanta, and sister LOUISE MACKEY CARLETON, Alexandria, Va.

ENNA MORRIS, Macon, retired in Aug. as an administrative specialist in the office of the directorate of materiel management of Warner Robins Air Materiel Area. Enna took a job with the Air Force in 1941.

CORNELIA TURNER THORNTON, Cordele, Ga., was named Georgia's 1971 Mother of the Year. Mrs. Dwight (Mamie) Eisenhower, with whom she was pictured in the Atlanta Constitution on March 12, is honorary president of the American Mothers Committee. Reunion with her were her daughters, Mayson Thornton Bassell, '53, and Cornelia Thornton Hawley, '54.

to Anne Moore. Their daughter is married to a Naval officer stationed at Paris I. and teaches English. Mary wrote: "We enjoyed our visit in the home of LAURA NELL ANDERSON O'CALLAGHAN and were charmed with Laura Nell's graciousness and the pictures of her attractive daughter, Dennie.

Other reunioners who returned:

'29

next reunion in '72

MATTIE WILL CLEVELAND STOVALL moved to Atlanta in June. She is a house mother in one of the student nurses' dorms at Grady Hospital.

'31

next reunion in '76

ANNETTE WHITE KING, Jacksonville, Fla. wrote: "We had a great party (for prospective students), good attendance and the Wesleyan Washboard Band added tremendously to the pleasure and success of the gathering."

ESTELL KING COLLAR is active in Austell Presbyterian Church, chiefly its library. She enjoys voluntary tutoring in the local elementary school.

'30

next reunion in '77

HELEN JONES LANGFORD, Cope land, Fla., teaches school. With her Loyalty Fund contribution she wrote: "I enjoy the alumnae magazine."

MARTHA COOPER, Perry, Ga., re gent of the Georgia State Society DAR, presided at the state meeting at the Macon Hilton on March 18. A tea was given in her honor that afternoon at Wesleyan.

EUNICE PARTIN SMITH: "The reunion was so rich and meaningful. Even though only eleven of us were here, the fellowship was full of joyous reminiscences." Eunice does volunteer work at the VA Hospital in Fayetteville, N. C., where her husband is Chaplain, with church work and homemaking, has recently taken up golf again. Daughter Jacquelyn Smith Lineberger, '61, Bowie, Md., has two daughters, Sandra, 4, and Anne, 2 (future Wesleyannes!). Daughter Jeredith has joined her husband in Germany for a three-year tour of duty with the army.

VIVIAN MAJORS BIRD, Moultrie, Ga., teaches five geometry classes, which she loves. Last year held "joys and sorrows — three new granddaughters in six weeks, a niece and nephew to get married in the same week, and loss of mother-in-law."

'32

next reunion in '76

MARY FELTON PAULK, Moultrie, Ga. commented: "The prevailing emotion of our meeting, in addition to the joy of being together again, of course, was our pride in Wesleyan. Our class of 1932 is unique in that we were the class who entered college the year Rivoli began operation."

EMILY ORR SULLIVAN, Macon, retired last year after 39 years at Miller Junior High, teaching biology and for the past ten years in charge of the office staff.

Mary is married to an ophthalmologist. They have three children: Jim, Jr. is a lawyer in Atlanta; Jule Felton Paulk is in second year of law at Georgia and will be married in June

VIRGINIA TOWNSEND MUNFORD does volunteer work in the public schools of Jackson, Miss. Her husband is "now an enthusiastic gentleman farmer, along with his business. I'm trying to stay young enough to keep up with him", she says. Their son Robert is a first year intern at Parkland Hospital, Dallas, Tex., and Luther is a senior at Princeton. (Virginia was Miss Wesleyan of 1932).

RUTH SMITH ANDERSON, Athens, Ga.: "It's wonderful how much the alumnae magazine has meant to the girls. It certainly helps us to keep up with our friends."

FRANCES KNOTT SMITH, Dalton, Ga.: "After many years of being a fulltime homemaker I am now leading a double life, still enjoying my home duties and launching upon a new career as social worker. Since our daughter and her family live too far away for frequent visits my husband and I have to content ourselves with hobbies other than our grandchildren. Nevertheless, they are still the highlights of our lives."

DOROTHY H. SIMMONS, Macon, is still teaching math, now at Central Complex-Lanier A. She is representative of NCTA (National Council Teachers of Math) for the state of Georgia.

DOT FOUNTAIN TAYLOR, Albany, Ga., was planning to attend but telephoned she could not because of the death of her sister, Mary Olive's, husband. Dot, with her son Charlie, is maintaining her husband's business in Albany since his death shortly after her class reunion four years ago.

RUTH RAY GLEATON, Arlington, Ga., also telephoned regrets. She is proud of having had two daughters graduate from Wesleyan. Since the death of her husband these girls, her sons and "wonderful grandchildren", also the teaching which she loves, have helped her to carry on.

Notes from some who could not come:

HELEN HALL COURSEY, Memphis, Tenn.: "Bob is planning on retiring next year and we're hoping to do some travelling and fishing, our favorite pastime . . . He has a company meeting in Georgia in May and I plan on going with him."

DOROTHY QUILLIAN SMITH, Waycross, Ga., had to be out of town with "Red" the week-end of reunion.

MILDRED BOOTH WEST, Ft. Pierce Fla.: "Since I seem to be spending the best part of my life in the 4th grade, it looks as though I'll have to miss another good get-together. How I'd love to see you and many others. I hang onto every word in the alumnae magazine for it makes the memories seem closer . . . I really have never been very far away from schools in Georgia, for each summer I attend the Symposium for Flower Show Judges at the University of Georgia."

RUTH ANN BEGGS ARMOR, Santa Maria, Ga.: "I have a school for severely retarded and it is difficult to get away during the school year. We have four classes, an activity center for ret. adults, a pre-school, and a big workshop going, so our campus is always busy. The growth continues to amaze me as I started in 1960 with seven youngsters! . . . I hope Florence Wilder Smith will attend and write me all about it."

VIRGINIA SHIPPEY, Jacksonville, Fla., wrote Mary: "Thank you for your contribution toward the Martha Dimon Holmes memorial. I do hope it is an actuality with the inscription on the door of one of our dorm rooms. Dr. Strickland has written that it would be taken care of."

KATHERINE HILLHOUSE GOSS, Winston-Salem, N. C., had a visit from her son Miller, who had spent the last three and a half years in Australia working as a radio-astronomer for the government. Miller, Harvard grad with his doctorate from the U of California in Berkeley, sailed with Elizabeth, his wife, and three friends on a three-sail yacht to India, spending six months sailing among the Indonesian islands. The young couple spent two weeks with his parents, telling their adventures and showing slides, then left for Bonn, Germany, where he will continue with his work, using the largest radio-telescope in the world. His parents hope to visit him in 1972.

DOROTHY HUIE JAMES, Mebane, N. C.: "I am still married to Buck, whose picture was the only one of its kind in my room at Wesleyan. He has not been well for several years now and I will not be able to attend our class reunion . . . As for me, I know exactly how many years have flown away, but my mind feels young. So many things are still terribly funny to me." The James have a daughter, Lynn, dental hygienist who works for her dentist husband, in Cocoa Beach, Fla., and a son Jay, married to his childhood sweetheart in Sumter S. C., with four children who call their grandmother "Dottie."

LOUISE PITTMAN PEABODY, St. Simons Island, Ga., had to be at Winchester, Ky. helping husband Walter with a Lay Witness Mission he was leading. Their five sons are married and there are six grandchildren. Youngest son has just completed military service.

MARTHA MOORE FREEMAN, Macon, could not attend as she was in attendance on an invalid sister. Martha is still working as a clerk at Robins AFB, grateful to have her mind occupied since the death of her husband Albert, several years ago.

She met him, a bachelor, later in life, and they were extremely happy.

MYRTLE JOHNSTON DAMSON, Marietta, Ga., was on a vacation. She lives in the country and has one married son, two grandchildren, does "lots of crocheting and sewing."

SARAH HAMMOCK MIDDLEBROOKS, Jacksonville, Fla., and husband Gene had to go to Macon a week before reunion to help his two aunts move and could not come back again so soon. She instructed LULA CALHOUN VINSON to remember every word said about everybody, terming this "the last of the middle era of my life."

MARY MULLIS, Roswell, N.Mex., was kept home by a leg in a cast these last 15 months. Hurt in an accident 25 years ago, the leg started breaking about two years ago. With arthritis in her other leg, Mary walks with a walker. She hopes to be out of the cast in June, but may have to wear a brace.

CLARA JACKSON MARTIN, Gadsden, Ala., wished she could return, although she was jolted to bump into a former classmate in Birmingham before Christmas and neither recognized the other.

HARRIET FISKE MAGUIRE, Augusta, Ga., had a trip planned with her husband, hope to "be at the next one". She and Sam have two married sons, living in Augusta. Young Sam, an attorney, married Sadie Coleman, daughter of Sadie Fulcher Coleman, '35, and has three children. Bill is vice president of Fine Products Co., and has two daughters.

MARGARET CARTER HEARN, Atlanta, hopes to retire from teaching high school art next year. She had to miss reunion because she was in charge of decorations for her school's evaluation dinner. Her sister, Billie Ann Carter Burleigh, has five children. The oldest boy, PhD in bio-chemistry, is working on a fellowship at Cambridge with a bio-chemist who hopes for a breakthrough in cancer cure. Her only daughter is to be married in Aug.

CELIA SHARP ARIAN, Albany, Ga., would not attend because of bad health, which keeps her shut in most of the time.

FREDA DEVAUGHN ALLEN, Miami Beach, Fla., regretted that the timing was such that she could not get away from the station.

EUGENIA RAWLS SEAWELL, New York and Denver, is performing at Lincoln Center's Library and Museum of the Performing Arts April 22 and 23. The program is a one-woman show entitled "Tallulah, a Memory". She presented this tribute to her friend, the late Tallulah Bankhead, at the same place twice in January. During this season she also played Fanny Kemble in Hobe Sound, Fla. and has bookings until Nov. this year. Windfall Press will publish a volume of her poems, "A Certain Light", this year. Some of them appeared in The Wesleyan Magazine when she was a student.

LULA CALHOUN VINSON, Byron, Ga., after serving as president of the Macon Federated Garden Clubs, is now president of Middle Georgia Flower Show Judges Council.

IDA MAE SMITH BENTLEY, Columbus, Ga., has been teaching 15 years in the Muskogee County School System and says she loves it.

MALENE LEE MORGAN, Macon, toured Europe last July visiting 8 countries and seeing the Passion Play in Oberammergau.

'33

next reunion in '76

MARGARET CANTRELL ISAACS, Columbus, Ga.: "I must express gratitude for a delightful Alumnae Weekend. I had such a good time—enjoyed seeing many, many old friends, ate entirely too much good food, and swelled with pride on hearing Linda speak, and on seeing my aunt receive her award. It was a great time and I loved it. I'm already planning ahead for our next reunion year! The four years I spent at Wesleyan were such happy years — and the reunion years are proving to be the icing on the cake."

JEWELL BURNLEY HOWSER, Gallatin, Tenn., was kept from reunion by a fishing trip with her husband Harold in Florida. She is a feature writer for the Sumner County News and the Gallatin Examiner. Daughter Harriet was married last June; son Huell is a feature announcer on WSM-TV, Nashville, and is a "good looking bachelor."

FLOY SIMPSON HOLLOMON, Tupelo, Miss., hated missing reunion, wrote a long, newsy letter. With her husband "Bo", a Methodist minister, she leads a busy, happy life. Floy has a license to preach and served for a year as pastor in three small rural churches. She teaches adult Sunday School class, leads a circle and a youth Bible study group. Last year she enjoyed teaching at the Conference School of Missions, black and white combined. Her son is in medical school, her daughter teaching in Cobb County, Ga. When in Nashville last January for the General Board of Education meet. Floy looked up DOT MANGET HOGAN, whose husband is with the Methodist Publishing Co., as is she. Dot's brother in Atlanta has been ill. In reply to a letter on Loyalty Fund, Floy heard from MOSELLE ("CHICK") BURKE, who "has fond memories of Wesleyan and still values her year on the campus." She also heard from CAROLYN BACON BEARD, Columbus, Miss., kept from reunion by the serious illness of her mother, who lives with her.

RUTH FULWOOD WRIGHT, Tifto, Ga., enjoyed her visit to Wesleyan at reunion time, also the stop in Sandersville en route home to see Nonie Rawlings' 85 year old mother.

SUELLE McKELLAR SWARTZ, Roanoke, Va., wrote in Oct.: "As Betty Stayer Hendryson said about her trip to Italy, 'All I could think about was Dr. McKellar'; so Suelle Marie (Susan), '67, and I felt as we spent two weeks in Athens and the Greek Islands. He really loved everything connected with the classics — books, pictures, the very words derived from Latin and Greek. I now realize that his and Mother's sacrifices to let my sister and me stay in the College while there included his chance to see Rome and Athens. How I wish he could have! But knowing others have seen with 'his eyes' softens the hurt."

DR. ERNESTINE BLEDSOE, chairman of the department of education at Wesleyan, was in Washington, D. C. Feb. 5 for the orientation meeting of the National Council of Accreditation of Teacher Education. Later she attended the American Assn. of Colleges of Teacher Education in Chicago.

'34

next reunion in '76

Sympathy to JULIA MUNROE WOODWARD, Quincy, Fla., on the death of her half-sister, EDITH B. WATSON, on Dec. 21.

'36

next reunion in '75

LILLIAN JONES MARTIN, Honolulu, Hawaii, lost her husband nearly three years ago when he suffered a sudden heart attack. She had remarried some 18 months previously. She has lived and worked in Honolulu for the past couple of years, in order to be near her only daughter, Beverly Chatham Ashenden (a teacher), her husband, Ed, and 7-year old Russell. "Are there any other Wesleyan-nes in Honolulu? I'd like to contact them . . . I have so many happy, wonderful memories of Wesleyan and Macon."

'37

next reunion in '72

MARJORIE SAVAGE KIRKPATRICK, Evanston, Ill. represented Wesleyan at the inauguration of the president of Garrett Theological Seminary on March 8.

SOME OF THE '33 GIRLS

CLASS OF '46

'38

next reunion in '75

ELIZABETH DUBOSE WHITE VAN DYCK'S husband, Dr. Frank H. Van Dyck, became senior minister of Raleigh Court United Methodist Church, Roanoke, Va., last June. Their son, Ned, a graduate of Pfeiffer College, is in the Navy; daughter Lelia is a senior at high school.

RUTH MENGES STREIBLE and Ray, are back home in Florida after travelling in Europe following his retirement in July. Two of their sons were married last summer, and a third this winter. While at the Pentagon she was just an hour's drive from DOROTHY FLETCHER PERMENTER, her roommate at Wesleyan for four years. In Florence, Italy, she bumped into JULIA RAWLINGS, Griffin, Ga., travelling with a group, and they visited all the way to Paris.

HANSON HAYES HIGGINBOTHAM, Pasadena, Calif., ordering Wesleyan Wedgwood china, wrote: "I do wish the class of '38 would send bits of news for the magazine. I would love to read about their children and grandchildren. I have five children and five grandchildren, all in California except a married daughter in Pittsburgh. Her husband is assistant professor of psychology at Pittsburgh U."

SUSAN MAGETTE, Charleston, S. C., sent her Loyalty Fund contribution in memory of LULA JOHNSON COMER (1898) and in honor of her daughter, ELIZABETH COMER WIESE, '24. Susan writes that Elizabeth is at Patterson School, Lenore, N. C. and that she sees her from time to time. "I thoroughly enjoy her daughter and three grandchildren, who live here. Another daughter is living in Saudi Arabia with her family."

'41

next reunion in '74

IDA LONG ROGERS, professor of higher education at George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., represented Wesleyan at the inauguration of the president of Scarrett College for Christian Workers in Nashville last Oct.

'44

next reunion in '73

ELIZABETH BRANCH STANTON, Ft. Smith, Ark., on receiving an album of photos of the Rivoli plant, wrote: "Even my children agreed that the college is lovely from both the exterior and interior views. Gail, 15 and a sophomore in high school, could not believe that, for the most part, the college really looked like that . . . when I was a student there . . . Since I was the thirty-third member of my family to attend Wesleyan (only one to matriculate on the Rivoli campus) you can understand why I feel compelled to have the conservatory album also. My great grandmother, great-great aunt, aunt, and cousins ad infinitum, as students, lived in that fascinating old building, and I, too, have fond memories of visits there, as well as of concerts we attended in the lovely chapel . . ."

Sympathy to KATHRYN TERRY HALL, Macon, on the loss of her father last Sept. 30.

'45

next reunion in '73

HELENE (PAT) JONES SCHWARTZ, Pittsburgh, Pa., sent "a little investment in Wesleyan, because I have loved it dearly and wish it well." She keeps busy with church work, Scouts, Headstart, and the family. Her husband, Chuck, has been named assistant general counsel for US Steel. One of their four daughters, Gail, was married in December to Paul Currier. Congratulations!

VIRGINIA HARRIS HOWARD, Smyrna, Ga., and her husband, Lee, had a "wonderful second honeymoon" last summer when they spent three weeks in Germany and Switzerland.

'46

next reunion in '73

Silver Anniversary class of '46 did themselves proud by having the most classmates to return for Reunion. A total of 26 "Silver Girls" and 19 husbands returned to attend all or part of the activities.

Reunion party was held at the home of JOYCE DANIEL MANN on Friday evening. ADELAIDE WALLACE PONDER printed a "Watchtower," most interesting and clever, Vintage 1971, and gave it as a souvenir. It had old and new pictures and news of the class of '46. LINA JONES ARNOLD presented an evening of entertainment by giving "awards" for various accomplishments to those present: JOY LAWLESS TRIPP received some "Hot Wheels" for coming the farthest — all the way from Connecticut. For having the most children, MARY ANN ROACH MEADOWS was given a box of birth control pills. LINA JONES ARNOLD was given some tranquilizers for having the most grandchildren. Her mother, FLORENCE TRIMBLE JONES, '20, was a special guest. A puzzle for the first Graduate degree went to LOUISE PATE SKENE. Handcuffs were given to PEGGY STEWART RUSH for being married first.

Wesleyan charms were given to the class officers who returned: JANE KOLLOCK McCALL, L A U R A JONES TURNER, and JANE SPEARMAN STRUBY. A charm was also given to SUE LOTT CLARK in recognition of her having received the Alumnae Award for Distinguished Achievement last year.

Donations were accepted to help pay the expenses of the Reunion party and mailings.

Fifteen couples completed the weekend by getting together for dinner at the Macon Hilton Inn on Saturday evening.

JANE KOLLOCK McCALL, Atlanta wrote Frances Van Horn: "I thought your Reunion weekend was just great. Everyone I talked to seemed to think so, too. Next time I don't think the husbands will be so reluctant to make reservations in advance since they saw how many came this time. I was quite surprised but pleased. Thanks for a grand Silver Reunion."

ELIZABETH FORT JENKINS, Columbus, Ga., "organist, choir director, concert pianist, accompanist, and music teacher" (to quote a newspaper article about her), played at the dedication of the new pipe organ at St. Paul's United Methodist Church on Feb. 28. The organ, 44 ranks and 2,365 pipes, is the largest in Columbus. The Rev. James R. Webb, Jr., husband of EMILY HEARN WEBB, '42, is minister at St. Paul's.

JOAN TOMLINSON HORTON lives in Cornwall-on-Hudson, N. Y., where her husband, Thad, is assistant headmaster of Storm King School (boys' boarding school). They have four sons: Scott, 25, after four years in the Navy, is a student at Antioch College; Rich, 22, a senior at Brown; Glenn, 15, in tenth grade at St. Andrews School in Del.; and Evan, in sixth grade at St. Thomas Choir School in New York City.

MARY ANN ROACH MEADOWS, Cochran, Ga., has two outstanding daughters: Dot, a senior at Cochran High, is president of the Georgia 4-H Clubs, having served as president of the Southcentral District Council, and last summer she represented her town on the first annual Youth Tour of Georgia; Mary is active in the Bleckley County 4-H Club program and enjoyed a 4-H Citizenship Short Course in Washington, D. C. last July.

BETTY GARRETT PAGE has been elected assistant secretary of the American Agency Life Insurance Co. in Atlanta, first woman to hold a corporate office with this agency.

ELLEN McKINNON AUSTIN, Jacksonville, Fla., lost her husband six years ago, is raising their four children.

'47

next reunion in '72

Sympathy to ANNE CARLTON BLANCHARD and to EMMIE CARLTON JOHNSON, '49, on the death of their father, Wilbur Allen Carlton, retired professor at Oxford College of Emory, on Jan. 23. He was a frequent and beloved visitor to the Wesleyan campus while his daughters were students.

ELLEN WALDROP FAUCETT, Decatur, Ga., was a visitor on campus in Feb. As a program specialist for the Institute of International Education, Atlanta, she travels six states. For four years she was stationed in Madrid, and before that in Nassau, Bahamas.

JANE EPPS HENRY, Atlanta, lighted her daughter Pamela's candle at Annual Alumnae Day induction.

SUSAN COBLEIGH MEDLOCK, Tucker, Ga., lighted her sister Ellen's candle on Alumnae Day.

'48

next reunion in '73

ANNE VINSON NOLAND, Louisville, Ky., sent a most interesting term paper ('48) to your Editor on Wesleyan's contribution to science. "This subject so inspired me that I went on to get a Master's in zoology at UNC (1950) and a PhD in biology at U of L (1969)", she wrote. "This year I am research Associate in the Geology Dept. at U of L".

'49

next reunion in '74

BETSY HOPKINS FANCHER, Atlanta, has a new book, "The Lost Legends of Georgia's Golden Isles", published by Doubleday. She has been busy with autograph parties, one of which is to be given in her honor at Wesleyan on May 19.

BETSY FANCHER

'50

next reunion in '75

Sympathy to the family of BETTY READ CARTHON, Savannah, who died Dec. 22, 1969. After getting her AB at Wesleyan Betty attended Emory, held the MED degree from Georgia State, and was a graduate student in clinical psychology at the time of her death.

'51

next reunion in '76

SIDNEY FORD TATOM, Sarasota, Fla., spent six months in Boston last year as an intern in the HEW-sponsored psychiatric rehabilitation program at Massachusetts Mental Health Center (Boston Psychopathic Hospital), under the direction of Harvard Medical School. Widowed in 1961 Sidney earned her MA in Science Education at U of Fla., taught chemistry in the Fla. Public School system for five years, then switched to work with handicapped children as a counselor with the Fla. Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. She has two daughters, Sarah, 14, and Nancy, 12.

MARY LEWIS, Wayne, Pa., regretted missing her 20th reunion in March, but expected to be in the midst of comprehensive exams for her PhD at Bryn Mawr. "MARTHA B. WHITE BARNETTE lives just a mile away with her husband and four children", she wrote in December. "I see them often. Just recently I spent a weekend with BETTY LOU BARBER McCLURE, Jim, and their five daughters in Lewisburg, Pa. HELEN CLANTON MEREDITH is only 30 miles away in Wilmington, Del., with Cole, and their two. I lost touch with my Wesleyan friends while I lived in the West. Now it gives me such a warm, good feeling to rediscover how much we have in common through our years together in college." Last summer Mary represented Bryn Mawr at the Interuniversity Consortium for Political Research, at the U of Mich.

EVELYN HAMRICK SLATON has moved from Wilmington to Greensboro, N. C.

CAROLYN KING STANDERWICK, Bellevue, Neb., has had word that her husband, Bob, is still missing in action. She and her children, 6 and 15, try to stay busy and optimistic. Our hopes and prayers are with them. "I was delighted to meet both MEDRA WALLACE and SANDY ROSE LASLEY recently and renew Wesleyan memories", she wrote recently. "Four of the happiest years of my life were spent at Wesleyan."

'52

next reunion in '75

Sympathy to BARBARA WATKINS PROCTOR, Newnan, Ga., on the death last Nov. of her husband, Dr. Ernest E. Proctor. A few weeks previously the hospital authority and medical staff had voted to dedicate the new Medical Pavilion at Coweta General Hospital to him "for the devotion and leadership provided by Dr. Proctor in the field of coronary care and specialized medical care."

At Reunion Party at EDWINA HALL BEALLS, about 25 alumnae and husbands were back to celebrate. ALICE ANN HAMILTON, brought many news notes. (Watch for them!)

ANNE STROZIER BLAKE'S husband, Henry, is the new president of the Harrison Company, Publishers, in Atlanta.

LAURA A. MARTIN, Norristown, Pa., teaches elementary vocal music in the Philadelphia Public Schools, having received her Master's in Music Education from Temple U last May "after six long years." Husband Merritt has his BSc and MEd from Temple also, and teaches all the elementary strings in Haverford Twp, Haverford, Pa. They have three children: Cecilia, 17; Merritt, Jr., 13; and Walter, 11. Some time back she wrote of having dinner with PATRICIA PITTS RHUDY, '51, who lived in Tullahoma, Tenn., with her "aeronautical engineer, deacon, doctoral student husband, James." Laura hoped to hold a "get-together" of Wesleyan's in her area.

GRAY AYERS MANSINNE, her husband, Col. Andrew Mansinne, Jr., and four children, Andrew Peyton, Josephine Meigs, Herbert Ayers, and Peter Gray, are now stationed at Fort Riley, Kans., reports Gray's mother, JOSEPHINE KING AYERS, '19.

KATHRYN JONES FOSTER received the MA in social work at Indiana U last June.

MARGARET GAIL STEPHENSON, who taught in the Atlanta schools until last year, serves now as librarian in the Professional Library at the Atlanta Instructional Services Center. She has her MA in Librarianship from Emory.

NEVA AND FRIENDS

ALICE ANN HAMILTON, Decatur, Ga., received the Master of Educational Administration degree from Ga. State U in Aug. She is assistant personnel director of the DeKalb County Board of Education.

JANE FENN FOSTER, West Palm Beach, Fla., has her mother with her, recuperating from a broken leg. Wrote Jane: "The NOW newsletter is great! What a wonderful concise way to keep everyone informed. I love it!"

OLLIE ANN KING GOWEN has moved to Charlotte, N.C., where her husband has the Oldsmobile agency. Sally, 15, Mary Anne, 13; Laurie 10, and George Louis, 8 — "Florida Crackers" — enjoyed winter's ski and ice skate treats. Ollie Ann, not back at Wesleyan since '53, was "really excited" over planning to come to reunion.

SUSAN McDUFFY'S son, Robert, an outstanding young violinist in the Macon area, is a featured member of the Macon-Wesleyan Strings, directed by Henri Schwarzenberger. This group played with the Wesleyan Glee Club at their Christmas concert, also at the Harvard and Wesleyan Glee clubs joint Palm Sunday concert.

HELEN LONG BASS, who has lived in Winnetka (Chicago, North Shore), Ill. for sixteen years, stopped off at Wesleyan en route to Miami and the Caribbean for a bankers' convention. Her husband, Wesley E. Bass, Jr., is senior vice president in the Trust Dept. of the Chicago Title and Trust Co. They have two girls, Catherine, nearly 6, and Elizabeth, 3. Helen taught at Chicago Musical College from 1955-60. She said she sees PAT HARPER WHITE, '56, a lot.

JANE CAREY C. PECK, with a Master's in religion in higher education from Boston U in 1957, is now enrolled in her fifth year of part-time study for the PhD degree in Christian ethics and sociology at Boston U. She has a graduate fellowship from the Radcliffe Institute. Husband Robert is director of Physical Education and Athletics at Boston. They have three children and live in Wellesley Hills.

'54

next reunion in '76

Reunion party at NELL WARREN HICKS was attended by around 30 alumnae and their husbands.

BLAINE ROSS SHANKS, Malibu Beach, Calif., came from the further-est point for reunion, brought along Jennifer, aged 13 months.

MARY LOWREY PEACOCK, moved to Tucson, Ariz., hated missing reunion. Her husband, Erle, is chairman of the department of surgery at the new medical school at the U of Ariz. They have three children: Jim 14; Susan, 13; and Gayle, 9. "I find gardening here most challenging and tennis lot of fun — not to forget the Ladies' Riding Group on Thursdays. We live on 8 acres of cactus, palo verde, and rattlesnakes . . . our corral is still empty but we have plans."

'55

NEVA LANGLEY FICKLING, Macon, wrote last fall: "While I was back in Atlantic City my former roommates at the Conservatory, ANNA CLAIRE WILLIAMS (now Mrs. James Allan) and NITA SEXTON (Mrs. Ed Dowling) got through to me backstage during the Miss America pageant and we were able to 'reune' in the Philadelphia airport on my return trip. We had a great time. Both girls are near Philadelphia and are very active in church choirs and children's activities. Anna Claire has four boys; Nita two boys and a girl. James is in the carpet business. Nita, who was my suite mate, and Ed met at Auburn. They like camping and both couples enjoy water sports on Chesapeake Bay. We all love Wesleyan and the fact that we were fortunate in knowing one another because of her."

When Linda Lane and Norman McLean gave a concert at Brevard College, Brevard N.C., they were entertained by Pres. and Mrs. Robert Davis at their home. Mrs. Davis, PHYLLIS CLOUGH, BM, '55, invited a member of the faculty, CAROLYN GLEATON COX, to join them for the evening.

DOROTHY SMITH YANDLE, Clemson, S.C., has been promoted to the editorship of "The Messenger", weekly newspaper published at Clemson U, where her husband, Dr. Bruce Yandle, Jr., is professor of economics.

BARBARA BROWN DEAN, Atlanta, was presented by the Pro-Mozart Society at its opening program last fall. John Schneider, music critic of the Atlanta JOURNAL, wrote that this mezzo-soprano "is a stunning singer whose uncommon talent has been leading her on a very rapid path to success, and spoke of "her powerful, magenta-colored voice" and the "genuine excitement" of "four Rachmaninoff songs which Miss Dean bravely sang in most acceptable Russian."

'56

CAROLE JENKINS, Atlanta, is sales representative for Delta. After graduating in business ed. at Fla. State, she served as legal secretary, also taught fashion.

'57

BARBARA REMIG SALTARELLI was named Outstanding Woman of the year in Clearwater, Fla. last Oct. After leaving Wesleyan Barbara earned a BA in Radio, TV, and Motion Pictures at UNC in Chapel Hill. She was cited for her interest and leadership in art, music, and letters in the Fla. Gulf Coast area. Husband Cedio is an investment executive. They have a son, Douglas, 9.

MONA LEE RHODES SMELKO, after three years of widowhood, has remarried and lives "in a lovely old Victorian duplex in a landmark area of Brooklyn". Daughter Ashley is 10, in fifth grade of Packer Collegiate Institute. Husband's professional name is Albert Stratton; he performs on TV's "Love is a Many Spondored Thing."

MARTHA ANNE NEVILLE REYNOLDS, York, Pa., wrote with her Loyalty Fund check: "Would love to have the address of any classmates living in my area. We now have four children, the latest, Matthew James, born April 3. Our oldest is a son, Neville, 11, and we have two future Wesleyanians, Amy 9, and Holly 6. Would love to visit the campus again and see the many new additions!"

BETTY BRABSTON BALLARD, Ann Arbor, Mich., represented Wesleyan at the inauguration of the tenth president of Albion College, Albion, Mich., in Feb. Last fall she accompanied her husband, voice teacher at Eastern, and the University Choir, which he conducts, on a month's trip to Europe. They, 80 strong, were one of five choirs chosen to represent the USA at the Choral Conductors' Symposium in Vienna, Austria.

"TWENTY YEARS SINCE '51—I CAN'T BELIEVE IT!"

CLASS OF '52
"Remarkably young and chic!"

—AND 3's THE CHARM—'53!

'58

next reunion in '72

NANCY COOK HOLLINGSWORTH, Walterboro, S.C., has three sons: Steve, 11, artist; Andrew, 9, Cub Scout; and Thomas, in first grade, and learning to swim. Husband Charlie's camp, Bonnie Doone, keeps him busy, and he travels to other camps and churches. He was privileged to return to Columbia Seminary in Oct. to participate in their continuing education program. "With work in Christian education and camping, he never complains of boredom", she writes. With substitute teaching etc., neither does Nancy!

KENNON AYER HATCHER GRIF-FING has moved from Charleston to Groton, Conn., her eleventh move in ten years. Her husband, Edward, a commander in the Navy, is commanding officer of the gold crew of the USS Sam Houston, submarine homeported in Groton. They have two daughters, Kathleen, 10, and Elizabeth, 7.

'59

next reunion in '73

RACHEL ANNE HILL THOMAS taught in De Kalb County for two

MEDRA LOTT WALLACE wrote Nina Terrell from Bellevue, Neb.: Purple knights '58 everywhere are proud you will be leading the Alumnae Assn. I know you will do a good job . . . I'm sure you recall my taking off my junior year to marry a young AF lieutenant from Robins AFB . . . We have been here near Omaha for five years. Rich leaves in Jan. for Thailand and the children and I will stay in Bradenton, Fla. He will be gone one year and in that time I hope to visit Wesleyan . . . SANDRA ROSE LASLEY '59, is here also. Her husband is in Vietnam. She and I pass the good news of Wesleyan and we are trying to increase applications from daughters of the military. My daughters are Laura, 12; Cynthia, 11, and son Richard is 6. Laura will be a freshman at Wesleyan (I hope, in '76, and Cynthia in '77.

"After travelling as much as we have and seeing first hand the activities and quality of education at some of our nation's larger state schools, I will be indeed so happy to have my girls at my beloved Wesleyan.

"I do appreciate the many innovations and changes that are taking place at Wesleyan, but thank goodyears, after graduating from Auburn, now devotes full time to her three sons, Donald Vaughn, 6; William Hill, 5, and Benjamin Scott, 2. Husband Don is with E. R. Squibb and Sons in Atlanta. They live in Stone Mt., Ga.

'60

next reunion in '73

BEVERLY BOND LARSON, Winter Haven, Fla., two years at Wesleyan, received her BA in Social Science in 1968 from a California State College, after marriage to an Episcopal clergyman and the advent of two children. She lives in San Jose, Calif.

MARY AMERSON WILLINGHAM, Macon, was named to Outstanding Women of America for 1970. Mary is a chemistry teacher at McEvoy High, active in Junior League, Girl Scouts, Chamber of Commerce, clean-up and beautification. She and Alfred have two sons, Timothy, 9, and John, 6.

'62

next reunion in '73

PATRICIA MARTIN HEANEY lives in Reno, Nev., where her hus-

ness, the best things about Wesleyan remain the same or get better — mainly a quality of education that stresses the WHOLE woman, a closeness between student and faculty, and a climate of responsible expression. I hope Wesleyan still has rules — for that is life and I certainly want my girls to have limits.

"Seems like yesterday, Nina, that we were singing around the fountain or hurrying to set up tables before lunch. Some of my dearest memories are of Wesleyan and Wesleyannes. I meet them everywhere we go in the states and overseas, too."

Medra wrote of seeing NEVA LANGLEY FICKLING in Florida several summers ago — "she's still so beautiful and so warm and charming", — also that MARY ELLEN MIDKIFF WILLIS and JANE MAYS BELMONT ('58) in Sarasota; TRUDI WILSON TOPOLOSKY ('56) is from Bradenton and also an AF wife; that she visited with SALLY TANNER FARMER, childhood friend from Carrollton, Ga., who now lives in Dothan, Ala. with her lawyer husband. "So proud of Luleen, too! A fabulous person — remember how we loved that word!"

band Robert practices law. They were married in 1945 when she was teaching in Alaska, and now have two daughters, Susan, 4, and Pamela, born last July.

'63

next reunion in '74

JULIA WOODWARD GREGORY was expected to return to the USA from the Phillipines in the middle of March.

MARY GOSS HUGHES, Auxvasse, Mo., and son Scott, were welcome visitors in the Alumnae Office in March.

TOMMIE SUE MONTGOMERY is finishing her PhD in politics at New York U.

MARY JEAN CAMPBELL FIX, Atlanta: "Congratulations on NOW. I was delighted to receive it and am ever more proud of Wesleyan . . . It has been wonderful living and teaching 'back home' in Atlanta while Richard has completed his residency and fellowship in pediatric cardiology. We look forward to moving to Brunswick this summer with 5-year-old Kathryn and our shepherds, The Count and The Baron . . . We'll welcome visitors." Mary Jean graduated early with the class of '62. She wrote of a Christmas letter from her freshman roommate, MARY (ROBBIE) PERSONS VAUGHN, mother of Clay, Allison, Paul, and Carness, all living in London; also of visiting in Miami with RENATE BUTLER DAVID, Richard, and their "handsome son Chris, plus the Irish wolf hounds."

'64

next reunion in '74

DR. MARILYN McCRAE has moved from Memphis, Tenn. to Metairie, La., and has applied for medical license from the states of Ala. and La.

'65

next reunion in '74

NANCY VAN AHEA: "It was fun to return to the Wesleyan campus to visit with classmates last spring. Part of my summer was spent on a marvelous trip through South America. Upon my return to Cleveland I had a pleasant visit with RACHEL ANN EPP-ELHEIMER, '62, and a new Cleveland, SILVIA GAGGALEY KEN-NEWEG, '65."

MILDRED ESCHMANN SPEAR, Pensacola, Fla., is with the Northwest Florida Girl Scout Council. She writes: "I enjoy my work immensely:

primarily I recruit and place, train troop leaders and do a bit of PR, getting out the monthly paper". In helping run the Council's Capital Campaign she was searching for famous people in Girl Scouting. Any Wesleyanians to report to her?

MINDY BHULLAR SANDHU has been working with the Peace Corps Training Programme in Nairobi, Kenya, with micro-teaching, supervised practice in rural schools, learning native language, etc. "It has been fun working with this group of 48, all science or math specialists", wrote Mindy, "and training them to be efficient teachers in Kenyan schools. They have a lot to offer to Kenya and the United States in return." Mindy's brother Hardeep, now at Mississippi State U, visited her in September, went on to see his parents in India. "There the Cupid worked wonders and Deep acquired a wife by the name of Pushpajit. She sounds like a wonderful person. She has finished her BA and is doing Education."

LINDA CARTER VOCINO received the MA in Music from Southern Illinois at Carbondale in Aug. last year. She was also elected to Phi Kappa Phi.

'66

next reunion in '74

KATHRYN STRIPLING BYER, teaching English at Western Carolina U, in Cullawhee, N.C., wrote: "I think of Wesleyan often and hope that it can continue to strengthen its liberal arts program, a program fast becoming extinct at many other places, I'm afraid. I know that with dropping enrollments these are trying times for Wesleyan and colleges like it, but good luck to you all. I hope my check can help in some little way."

SUSAN GLOVER JORDAN moved to Sebring, Fla. last fall, when her husband, Brian, became Chief Psychologist in the new Highland Mental Health Center. "We have a house right on Lake Jackson . . . I do love my Wesleyan alumnae magazine and don't want to miss an issue."

JEAN GILBERT KLECKLEY is living with her parents in Atlanta while her husband, Dan, is in Vietnam with the Judge Advocate General's Corps.

CONNIE BAZEMORE HYDE and MARGARET MCKENZIE JENNINGS ('70) live around the corner from each other in Chicago. Connie's husband is in the Comparative Education Center at the U of Chicago; Margaret's is in first year medical school.

CHICKS
OF '66

CLASS OF '68—JUST GREAT!

SWEET YOUNG(EST) THINGS OF '69

'66

JO TOLMIE DENMARK, Orlando, has returned to Florida and works with the Division of Family Services. Husband Philip is with the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development for the Florida area. They live down the street from a Wesleyan roommate, RETA HOLT PETERSON. "While living in Jefferson City, Tenn.," wrote Jo (Phillip was finishing college at Carson Newman and she served as first social worker of the Morristown Housing Authority), "I never expected to discover another Wesleyanne — much less another Purple Knight. TONI VICKERY didn't receive the alumnae magazine, so I delighted sharing mine with her. We enjoyed reading class notes as well as new developments on the Wesleyan campus."

MARTHA MCGOUGH LANG now lives in Virginia Beach, Va., where her husband is radiologist in the Navy for two years. They expect to return to Atlanta to complete his residency. Melissa is 2.

VIRGINIA JOHNSON, Albany, Ga. is assistant professor of math at Wesleyan. With a Master's in 1968 from Auburn, she has completed work on her PhD there.

'67

next reunion in '75

SUSAN COOKE McCUMBER, Atlanta, wrote a note of thanks from her class for "an interesting, exciting, fun-filled weekend. Even though we had only 23 class members to attend the reunion either on Friday or Saturday, we enjoyed renewing our friendships and learning of news from our other classmates who were unable to attend. We shall be looking forward to the next one."

DIANE BURNETT TYLER, Stockbridge, Ga., is an Education Specialist in the Education Division, Director of Personnel and Community Activities, Ft. McPherson, Ga.

JUDY RAGLAND, who has her MA from Columbia U, participated in a training program sponsored by the First National City Bank, New York, last fall. Judy, one of the 100-man training and education staff, designed a course to make tellers out of non-tellers. In a lengthy article in the New York TIMES Judy was quoted as saying, "If the student fails it's our fault."

SUSAN CRAWFORD SHURLING, Macon, is listed in "Foremost Women in Communications."

KAY WILLIAMS NEW is in graduate school at West Ga. College, having taught special education in Rome, Ga., last year. The Alumnae Office was happy to have her visit, with her son, last Sept.

'68

next reunion in '75

GAYLE CLARK, class president, wrote: "We had a tremendous class reunion, with a very successful reunion party at the Sheraton Inn (Gayle was hostess). All in all, the class of 1968 had 37 alumnae to return, along with 17 husbands! I'd say that was pretty good for a bunch of old ladies! Congratulations on a very fine weekend. I really enjoyed reading the new alumnae newsletter, NOW. It is a fantastic idea . . . After completing 2½ years of travelling for Wesleyan, I will hang up my travelling shoes. I have accepted a position as Director of the South Carolina Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Assn. in Columbia." We hate to give up Gayle, wish her luck in the new job. Also many thanks for news notes of her class:

CATHY CUSHING HARVEY, married to Robert, lives in Manhattan area of New York City. First of this month she became the first woman salesman for an oil firm.

LYNN HAYES MOORE and Philip live in Macon, have a 4-month old son. She works for Bibb Co. as a computer programmer.

LYNDA OGBURN ANDERSON and Jim (Mercer student) live in Macon. She is a social worker at Family and Children's Services.

EMILY TRIBBLE BURNETT is married to Lewis, Navy pilot, stationed in Iceland.

SUE COLEY HOFFMAN and Chancellor, Columbus, Ga., have a 3-month-old daughter.

JOYCE MORRISON MILLER has just returned to Winter Park, Florida from Hawaii, where she met her husband, an adviser in Vietnam, on R and R. They have a 21-month-old son.

KATHRYN PAINTIN is studying in France at the U of Strasbourg, after two years at Tulane as an NDEA. She spent Christmas skiing in Austria.

KRISTINA CROSS HAWKINS and Ashley live in Macon. She teaches English, is expecting in September.

BETSY MARTIN BUNTE, wed to Louis, an Atlanta banker, teaches English, loves her work. They plan a month in Europe this summer.

BETTY SMITH HIPPS and husband Michael, both graduate students at the U of Ga., had been married one week when they came to Wesleyan for her reunion. "What a way to spend your honeymoon!" commented Gayle.

VIRGINIA HIERS MILLER wrote last fall from Blacksburg, Va., where she teaches math at the local high school to "potential drop-outs. It's a challenge to find ways in which to motivate them." Husband, Roger, teacher at VPI, was finishing his dissertation with the prospect of getting his PhD in Dec. The Millers are enjoying a "fantastic" furnished home they have sublet, an English racer bike for exercise, and their cat. They hope to take a group of students to Madrid this summer for ten weeks.

VICKI PAGE JAUS has moved to Bloomington, Ind., where she is studying for her MA and her husband for his PhD. Last summer she saw her former roommate, Bunny Eddy Lancaster, and husband Roger, who live in Calgary, Canada, where he teaches at a junior college.

BETSY MARTIN BUNTE, Atlanta, Ga., served on the Reaction Panel at the meeting of the Southern Assn. of Colleges for Women at the Regency-Hyatt House in Atlanta Dec. 1. The theme: "What's right and what's wrong with women's colleges."

SUZANNE MOORE, Teen Editor at the Atlanta Constitution, is moving to Orlando, Fla. to be publicity assistant for the new Disney World. She is staying with her former Wesleyan roommate, ROBIN HOOD GEISLER until she finds an apartment.

PENNY BAGGS KWILECKI and Gerard, Tifton, Ga., have "the cutest daughter", Vivian.

DIANE WALKER teaches phys ed at Limestone College, Gaffney, S. C.

SARA WALTERS INGRAM, Winston-Salem, N. C., tutors in an all-black elementary school. Husband Ben is professor of ROTC at Wake Forest U.

HELEN JACKSON earned her Master's at the U of Ga., is now a reading specialist in the Columbus, Ga. area.

KAY HAFNER AGNEW, married to a law student at the U of Ga., has an adorable 5-month-old daughter, Beth. She brought her to Reunion.

JUDY FLOYD SMITH and ANGELIA PROCTOR WILSON both "look so good", reports Gayle, both looking forward to their first child.

CONNIE BERG PLUNKETT was county chairman for Jimmy Carter's campaign for governor and is now on the Georgia State Executive Committee for the Democratic party.

CHERYL MAUND PAGE and Charlie have a 5-months-old son also named Charlie. They live in Atlanta.

NANCY McCOWELL JORDAN and Frankie, Macon, have a baby named Jan.

JUDY WEAVER YIELDING and "Budha", Albany, Ga., have a beautiful baby son named Kelly.

VICKI PAGE JAUS and Hal are both graduate students at Indiana U, working on her Master's and his PhD.

JEAN RUSSELL WARD and Buck, Atlanta, have a precious baby son named Pete.

ANNE PLAPINGER DU VALL and husband Henri live in Raleigh, N. C. They plan to attend graduate school next year; she will study political science and Henri will be getting his PhD in philosophy.

CHARLOTTE KNOX received her Master's in PE at Michigan State U in 1969, is now teaching at Taylor U in Ind. This summer she will lead the first co-ed cross country bike trip. It will take about five weeks to bike across the whole country.

ELLIS NORTH MERRICK and husband Ted (Lt. and pilot in the Navy), will move soon from Greensboro, N. C. to Rota, Spain, for three years.

MARGIE HIPPE earned her MS from Vanderbilt and is now a speech pathologist in Huntsville, Ala.

MARTHA HERRING STUBBS and Ron couldn't come to reunion from Quincy, Fla., because she was expecting her first baby on March 25!

WENDY HANNA WARD and husband Jon are working on degrees at Cornell, she in biology and Jon on his PhD in microbial genetics.

MARTHA WHITFIELD WILLIS and husband Larry, now living in Alaska, will move to Rochester, Minn. in July where he will take a fellowship in ophthalmology at Mayo Clinic.

PRIS GAUTIER BORNEMANN, and husband Al, Decatur, Ga., had planned to come to reunion but Al suffered monoxide poisoning trying to keep warm for 18 hours with an electric BBQ grill while Pris was away on business! He's OK now.

LAURA SULLIVAN BARKLEY, is with the Office of Information at Wesleyan.

KATHERINE DICKERT, Chapel Hill, N. C., wrote with her Loyalty Fund contribution: "These have certainly been a busy two and a half years since we left Wesleyan. I have received an MA in Teaching Physical Education at the U of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. I'm now teaching PE in an elementary school and love it. Also I'm planning a July wedding."

After two years in New York and a trip to Europe, SHARON STUBBS is back at home in Statesboro commuting to Millen, Ga. to teach English and World Literature to the juniors and seniors at Millen High. Although she may not admit she likes it, every other word is about "one of my students . . ."

BEVERLY MITCHELL is Instructor of Physical Education at Wesleyan, as of this year, when she isn't busy being the sponsor for the Purple Knights of '74, the Intercollegiate Golf Team, Naiads, BSU. She has a Master's from Michigan State, has taught PE in the public schools of Deland, Fla.

MARTHA PAFFORD lives in New York City, is an advertising copywriter for McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.

JUDITH DAVIS GAIR, Merriam, Kans., is Social Insurance Claims Examiner with Social Security Administration in Kansas City, Mo.

'69

next reunion in '75

SUZANNE WOODHAM was to get her BA from FSU in Aug., planned to enter Northwestern U in the fall to work in Counselor Education.

LINDA RICH was to be her "roomie" in Evanston. Re Alumnae mailings: "Please don't stop! It really means a lot to hear from the school about friends . . . and of course, I always like to know what and how Wesleyan is doing."

SANDI EVERSOLE, assistant to the director of admissions, represented Wesleyan in January at seminars at the districts of the North and South Georgia Conference of the Methodist Church.

CAROLYN NORTHRIDGE, Jacksonville, Fla., was graduated in Dec., '69 from Fla. State, with BA in child development, after two years at Wesleyan. She is teaching in George Washington Carver Elementary. "Ran into SUZANNE WOODHAM and found she is teaching in Jacksonville, too . . . in Orlando I saw RETA HOLT PETERSON, '66, and new arrival, Jeff. Reta was my suite-mate my freshman year and MARTHA POLLARD HOLLER my roommate. Martha and her husband are living in Gainesville where he is in medical school and she teaches first grade. Martha and Reta and Suzanne all look great and remind me of the wonderful times at Wesleyan and the lifetime friends we all made there . . . we all remember Wesleyan with great fondness."

BASED IN MIAMI

MARY LLOYD BRINKS, Stuttgart, Ark., is a stewardess with Delta Air Lines, based in Miami.

JEAN HERRING MEACHAM ("Miss Wesleyan"), has been named assistant director of admissions at Peace College, Raleigh, N. C.

'70

next reunion in '75

LINDA SUZANNE GOULDING STEWART, Smyrna, Ga., is at graduate school in history at Ga. State.

DIANE DENNINGTON is in graduate school at Georgia State, working toward a Master's on Music, with emphasis on voice and music education. "I especially enjoyed the visit of Miss Sylvia Ross and a large group of Wesleyan's to the music department at State", Diane wrote in Nov. On her first accompanying job, Diane played for rehearsals and performances of Blanche Thebom's "Christmas Gift to Atlanta", including a show Christmas Eve on WSB-TV.

SUSAN WOODWARD WALKER is enjoying graduate work at Old Dominion U. She has received a teaching assistantship, and loves teaching nine hours of freshman biology lab each week. "It does seem funny to be on the authoritative side for a change! . . . Life was always so full at Wesleyan, but I do believe I'm busier than ever," she wrote in Oct. "I haven't quite organized my life as a wife, cook, housekeeper, student, and teacher." Susan represented Wesleyan last fall at the inauguration of the president of Hampton Institute.

FLIES OUT OF D. C.

DEBORAH ROSELANI-MAULOLO GIUGNI, Hillcrest Hts., Md. is a United Air Lines stewardess on flights out of Washington, D. C., where her father is administrative assistant to US Sen. Daniel Inouye, of Hawaii.

MAY POWELL PARKS, Chula Vista, Calif., wrote Alumnae Director Frances Van Horn, with her loyalty Fund pledge: "Thank you for the excellent job you're doing for Wesleyan. We were so pleased last year to have you as a link between students and alumnae."

MARRIAGES

Lou Ellen Semler, '69, Atlanta, is now Mrs. William Edward Boyes, Brick Town, N. J.

Mary Elizabeth Norman, '72, to Scott Amos Huguley, Lanett, Ala., Dec. 18, at West Point First Baptist Church.

Linda Kate Goldman, '70, to Joseph Revel Gholston, Lawrence, Ala., on Dec. 19. Roommate Barbara Roland Colwell was matron of honor. Kate lives in Winter Park, Fla., is a marketing specialist for the Dept. of Agriculture.

Linda Lucile Ennis, '70, Tampa, to Edward F. Brodersen, Dec. 21.

Judith L. Davis, Greensboro, N. C., to Robert Brooks Gair, Merriam, Kans., in Aug.

Charlotte T. Dekle, II, '66, to John P. Tucker, Jr., Nov. 21; living in Atlanta.

Mildred Dee Gleaton, '70, Warwick, Ga., to Ray Edwin Tyner, Jr., Tacoma, Wash.

Mary Lynn Lamberton, '70, Orlando, Fla., to David Mark Landis, Feb. 18.

Connie Carol Russell, '66, Carlsbad, N. M., has added Williamson to her name.

Ann Balkcom, '67, Atlanta, to Donald G. Williams, Dec. 27; living in Atlanta.

Betty Westmoreland, '66, to David Portzer Shuster, airline pilot in Louisville, Ky., last July 3. Now living in Atlanta, Betty has her MA and is in her third year as a high school guidance counselor.

Virginia Rebekah Ninnon Lord, '69, to Donald Harry Smith, Dec. 26; living in Antwerp, Ohio.

Cindy Wilson, '67, Orlando, Fla., to E. Max Hauth, Indianapolis, Ind.

Anne Harvey, '70, Macon, to Darryl Brandt Cohen, Sept. 27; living in Coral Gables, Fla.

Paula Ann Mansfield, '70, Macon, to Robert M. Young, Jr., Macon.

Ann Moore, '68, to Luther Chapman Whitlock, III, both of Decatur, Ga.

Susan L. Kimbrough, Mobile, Ala., to James H. Rudolph, Oak Harbor, Wash.

Holly Anne Pearson, '71, to Thomas Bush Payne, Feb. 27, in Miami, Fla.

Judy Hopkins, '67, to Neil Andrew Jacobs, in Jan. last year. In Nov. they were living at Eglin AFB, Fla. Neil, an F-4 Phantom Fighter pilot, met Judy in Korea when she was there with the Red Cross in '67-8.

Barbara Jo Bugg, '69, to William H. Tootle, Nov. 27, East Point, Ga.

Stella J. Baines, '25, Sylvester, Ga., to Everett F. Sherman, of Norman, Okla.

Janet Claire Smith, '68, Everett, Wash., to Fred W. Knight.

DeAnn Marie Smith, '71, Atlanta, to T. M. Roddy, Oakland, Calif., Dec. 20, 1968.

Sally Ann Eisen, '65, case worker in Houston, Tex., to wed David Miller in May. Groom, voted outstanding pre-medical student, will receive his medical degree from Baylor U this year.

Sandra E. Grist, '66, Rabun Gap, Ga., to Von S. Woods, Raleigh, N. C. Dec. 12. Both are at Graduate School at UNC.

Elizabeth J. Smith, '68, Columbus, Ga., to Michael L. Hipps, Athens, Ga., March 20.

Linda Withrow, '63, to C. Randolph Wilson, Decatur, Ga., Jan. 30.

Susan Myra Byrd, '69, Atlanta, to J. Samuel Matthews, Dec. 20. Living in Clarkston, Ga.

Katherine Louise Cushing, '68, Atlanta, to Robert Thomas Harvey, New York, N.Y. last July 11.

Mona Lee Rhodes, '56, to Albert L. Smelko, Brooklyn, N. Y., last year

Patricia Shriver, Philadelphia, Pa., to Dennis John Mancuso, last Aug. 21 at St. Timothy's Episcopal Church.

Alice Peninger, '69, to Fisher Jones Beasley III June 13. Living in Kannapolis, N.C.

Patricia Ann Grogan, '70, to Alan Christopher Borden, June 14. Chris, a lieutenant in the Army, was assigned to an infantry brigade stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. "Aloha to all from beautiful Hawaii", wrote Pat.

M. Michele Daniel, '68, Chicago, to George E. Kelly, Gaithersburg, Md., last year.

Carol Ann Kranig, '69, Avondale Estates, Ga., to William Kevin Thomas, Decatur, Ga., last June 13.

Cathy Sharon Wheeler, '71, Canton Ga., is to wed Michael Ronald Rainer, of Dothan, Ala. June 12.

Wanda Saltmarsh, '70, Atlanta, is to wed James Hugh Brenna III, of Dothan, Ala. June 19.

CORRECTION: Charlene Payne, '70, was married to Leigh Kammerer last Aug. 29 in Winter Garden, Fla. Both are students at Garrett Theological Seminary, Evanston, Ill.

BIRTHS

To Chaplain (Capt.) and Mrs. Samuel P. Lamback, Jr. (Gini Harshbarger, '56), a daughter, Mary Christine (Christy), on April 10 in Macon. Father is in Vietnam.

To Rev. and Mrs. Donald R. Youmans, (Mercedes Norris, '68), a boy, Donald Kevin, Feb. 26. Father is associate minister at First Methodist, Moultrie, Ga. Mother is organist.

To the Everett Anthony Stewarts (Linda Suzanne Goulding, '70), Smyrna, Ga., a son, Frederick Anthony, Dec. 19.

To Guy and Virginia Summerford York, '60, Albuquerque, N. Mex., a girl, Mahone Timmerman ("Timmerly"), Nov. 12. Son Pollard is in first grade. Guy earned his PhD at U of Texas in June, is now research engineer at Kirkland AFB.

To Dailey and Anne Telford Parr, '67, Atlanta, a second son, Kevin Dailey, July 7.

To Ernesto and Beatriz E. Alvarez Mieres, '71, Atlanta, a daughter, Carmen Beatriz, Aug. 26. Jose Ernesto is 2.

To Jesse and Phyllis Elaine Sherburne, '67, Covington, Ga., a son, Kenneth Robert, Dec. 28, 1969.

To Frank and Susan Lillyman Hyland, '64, Baltimore, Md., a second daughter, Margaret Ellen, Oct. 20. Debbie is 3.

To Tom and Jean Lillyman Gledhill, '68, a son, John Thomas, Oct. 24.

To Michael and Rebecca Diane Harrison Smith, '69, Marietta, Ga., a girl, Heather Shannon, Jan. 9.

To Gregory and Nikki Ann Haley Haskew, '69, Chattanooga, Tenn., a son, Christopher Keith, Nov. 13.

To the F. S. Godbolds (Betsy Harmon, '65), St. Petersburg, Fla., a girl, Laura Harmon Godbold, Jan. 28. Son Zell is 2.

To Herman and Nancy Jean Goff Waits, '68, Jackson, Ga., a son, Donald Rivers, Oct. 19. Mother was graduated from Mercer U Southern School of Pharmacy in 1969, is employed at City Pharmacy.

To the Phillip H. Lords (Sandra Williamson, '65), Macon, a son, named Phillip, Jr.

To Dailey and Anne Telford Parr, '67, Atlanta, a second son, Kevin Dailey, July 7.

To Glenn and Connie Hawkins Crosby, '71, Athens, Ga., a son, Brian Michael, March 27.

To Michael and Martha Lott Turner, '66, Atlanta, a son, David Matthew, last July 8.

To Jackson and Jean Russell Ward, '68, Atlanta, a son, Jackson Percy Ward IV ("Pete"), Dec. 13.

To Jimmy and Jeannine Hinson Conner, Hazlehurst, Ga., a third son, Scott Daniel, in Atlanta, Oct. 1. Jim is 14 and Drew is 6. Dad is in the general insurance business, farming, and has completed his sixth term in the Georgia House of Representatives.

To John and Cheryl Childree Woodford, Macon, Ga., a son, John Ronald, Jr. Dec. 28. She's class of '70.

DEATHS

1891	Dora Swift Nottingham
1891	Florence M. Tate
1893	Madge Sharpe Yeomans
1896	Ailene Pitts Corry
1902	Annie Montfort Crelly
1903	Lula Hurst
1904	Lucile Hatcher Shaw
1904	Eugene Featherstone Tufts
1906	Pearle Clements Nelson
1906	Sara Lou McRae Pennington
1908	Em Mae Tate Horton
1908	Sadie Johnston Howard Cheatham
1909	Virginia Jelks
1912	Hattie Carter
1912	Maude Stubbs Stulb
1914	Gladys Sheppard
1914	Sallie Mae Kennemur Youmans
1916	Donnie Andrews Sanders
1918	Lottie Felder Bowen
1920	Frankie Marr Lewis
1922	Elizabeth Fokes Asbell
1922	Louise Picket Harrell
1923	Anne R. Ellis Pendergrass
1925	Helen Rose Soule
1925	Estelle Stith
1927	Evelyn Bridges Eggum
1927	Louise Davis Dasher
1929	Helen Delamar Peters
1930	Jamie Jenkins Pettis
1934	Martha Oattis Carroll
1934	Dorothy Bryan May
1936	Mary McLean Napier
1937	Esther Northern Larsen
1937	Edith Bates Walson
1938	Dorothy Lunsford Giles
1943	Martha White Blalock
1950	Betty Read Carthron

We are happy to report that Harriet Springer Passailaigue, '55, Columbus, Ga., is "very much alive and well."

'70

ELIZABETH PITTMAN, Greenville, S.C., is in South Korea serving as a Red Cross Clubmobile recreation worker. She travels by boat, jeep, truck, and helicopter to take audience participation games to servicemen stationed in remote outposts.

B. J. MOLPUS is teaching PE in the Macon public schools. She assisted in this field last summer in the Governor's Honors Program.

KATHERINE (KIT) KING, McBee, S. C., was unable to attend Homecoming in November because she was planning her wedding and attending parties. "May I extend my sincere thanks for four of the most wonderful years of my life", she wrote.

Mrs. Corawayne W. Wright

Atlanta Elects

New president of the Atlanta Alumnae Club, to be announced at the April general meeting, is Carolyn Malone Carpenter, '34. Carolyn has led almost every women's organization in Atlanta, civic, cultural, and social, and "will be great", to quote retiring president Sarah Curry Jones, '48. Sarah, also "great", is our representative for the Admissions Office.

Boutique by 60's

Atlanta's Group VIII (the sixties), staged a Boutique to raise money for Wesleyan in March, making more than $170. Peggy Craig Bryant, head of the Atlanta Alumnae Club's Ways and Means Committee for the next couple of years, and Charlotte Jolly Hale were co-chairmen of the event. All items sold were made by the girls themselves.

Youngest Meet

Mrs. W. Earl Strickland and Miss Ann Munck met with the youngest group of alumnae in Atlanta on April 12. Jane Flemister Batten, '62, drove them to Stone Mtn. for dinner with the group, then all went to the home of Mary Helen Johnson Johnson, '64.

Kitchen Karavan

Macon Club's Kitchen Karavan on March 11 was a sensational success, with over $1500 realized toward scholarships for Macon students. Six model kitchens were on display, with baking and other bazaar items made by alumnae on sale at each. Three of the homes were owned by Macon alumnae: Martha Bradford Swann, '47; Cordelia Dessau Holliday, '48; and Rosemary Evans Anderson, '60. Helping to coordinate the affair, on which many people worked, were Karen Smith Glendenning, '67, chairman; Sandi Bell Shipp, '66, Macon president; Abby Howard Dillard, '66; and Jean Elsom Hogan, '51.

Trustee

Emily Hearn Webb, '42 Columbus, Ga., was elected at annual business meeting. She has served as alumnae association president. New Member-at-Large of Board of Managers is Anne Smith Strozier, '29, Savannah.

Party in Office

Over seventy past and present Wesleyannes attended the Alumnae Mother-Daughter coke party in the Alumnae Office March 13. Hostesses were Nina Sheppard Terrell, national president; Jackie Davis Richardson, first VP; Sandi Bell Shipp, Macon head; Frances Bruce Van Horn, alumnae director; and Freda Kaplan Nadler, editor.

Overheard during the festivities was the cry of one student to a current classmates: "I didn't know your mother was one, too!"

Florida Luncheon

Annual luncheon of the Central Florida Alumnae Club at the Langford Hotel, Winter Park, Fla., on March 16 was "a complete success", reported the president, Fran Strickland Bowden, '64. Twenty-one alumnae attended, including Edwine Teasley Thomas, '16, also Allen Sanders, admissions director at Wesleyan. The group plans to meet twice a year.

Fete Prospects

A reception for prospective students and their parents was held at the Cypress Gardens Sheraton, Winter Haven, Fla., on Feb. 15 with Carol Anne Golden, '67, the guiding spirit. Allen Sanders spoke briefly about traditions and exciting innovations at Wesleyan.

Task Force Star

Kudos to Michele Daniel Kelly, '68, Gaithersburg, Md., for her fine work on the alumnae task force recruiting project. Michele wrote personal letters to twenty girls in her area who were "school shopping". One of the answers said, "Wesleyan has amazed me by its open and enthusiastic attitude toward prospective students."

Michele also wrote the guidance counselors of the 20 high schools in her county, some of whom requested catalogues and other information, which was mailed from the Admissions Office. She also informed the Methodist Church HQ in that area of a Wesleyan alum who was willing to talk to students (herself!).

Jane Mulkey Green, Atlanta, head of the task force, hopes that Michele's outstanding efforts will encourage other alumnae to follow suit.

Augusta Recruits

A "recruiting" coke party was held in January by Lilly Lake Stephenson, '43, and her daughter Tori (Victoria) in Augusta, Ga.

"We hope to have 18-20 from this Savannah River area going to Wesleyan for the 1971-72 season", wrote Lilly. "Tori is so pleased she will become a Golden Heart, as I was for my four years at Wesleyan. She brings talents and interests and a maturity to Wesleyan that I'm sure I never possessed even as I was leaving the portals. She joins me in wishing the finest of all enrollments for next year. If I can do anything else to help, please let me know." Lilly was "thrilled and delighted" to light Debbie Hall's candle on Alumnae Day. She obtained fine publicity in the Augusta Chronicle for the Glee Club when the group sang there.